MARCHING AROUND.

British Try to Clear the Country.

Burghers Claim a Victory at Donkerspoort.

Machadodorp the Capital of the Transvaal.

Olivier Reported as Killed and De Villiers Mortally Wounded.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

LONDON, June 12, 3:30 a.m.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Fifty thousand British troops are within half a hundred miles of the marauding Boers north of Kroonstadt, and they are expected, of course, to make short work of them. Nevertheless, outside of the War Office telegrams, no one knows what is going on.

South of Kroonstadt there is a wide gap. The railway is only partially defended, and, as Gen. Kelly-Kenny has hurried all the available troops northward, the assumption is that there is danger of a second raid. The loss of the Derbyshires is estimated at from 600 to 700 men.

A Reuter dispatch from Maseru, dated June 11, 8:35 p.m., says: "Fifteen hundred Boers surrenderd to Gen. Brabant today in the Ficksburg district."

Machadodorp has been officially proclaimed the capital of the Transvaal. A Lorenzo Marques dispatch says the village has swollen into a small city, the majority of the inhabitants living in tents.

An official Boer telegram asserts that the British have been defeated with considerable loss at Donkerspoort, in the southern extremity of the Free State, or Orange River colony, ten miles from Norvalspont. It was thought that this district had been cleared of Boers and rebels long ago.

Lattey's Nek, but Gen. Buller's forces are still working far around in that direction.

Lord Roberts has wired Cape Town that prior to Wednesday he liberated 151 officers and 3500 of the rank and file. The Boers consequently took off only 900.

Schreiner, the Cape Premier, had eight supporters out of forty at a caucus called to consider the ministerial programme. J. X. Merriman, Treasurer, and J. W. Fauer, Commissioner of Public Works, have resigned from the Cabinet, and Schreiner's own resignation is believed to be imminent, although he may reconstruct the ministry with the aid of the opposition, the British members. The Cabinet situation is so interesting that Sir Alfred Milner will postpone his trip northward.

Food is still scarce at Mafeking, but the railway is nearly repaired. Seventy-two rebels have been arrested in the Vryburg and Mafeking districts. Sixty-five men were marched into Mafeking by two of their late prisoners at Mostia.

All of Gen. Harrington's force has landed at Beira a week ago. The organization to invade the Transvaal from the north is already far advanced.

A Borderer who arrived at Maseru yesterday asserts that 7000 Boers participated in the Rooekrants engagement; that Gen. Olivier was killed and Gen. De Villiers mortally wounded.

The American young women who are nursing in the hospital at Ladybrand have been slighted by the Boer women who are nursing the Boer sick in the same hospital, and have been made the object of unpleasant remarks, because the Americans are nursing the English.

Thirty thousand troops were engaged in the mimic field operations at Aldershot yesterday.

KRUGER'S BODYGUARD.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

LONDON, June 12.—The Lorenzo Marques correspondent of the Times says: "At Machadodorp, President Kruger has a bodyguard of 1800 burghers. Stores are being moved as quickly as possible from that point to Lydenburg. The Portuguese authorities sent a further body of troops to the border today."

CHOPPED TO PIECES.

Fate of the Fourth Battalion of the Derbyshires.

Six Enlisted Men Escaped—Others Killed, Wounded or Captured.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]

LONDON, June 11.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Lieut.-Gen. Sir Frederick Forestier-Walker, in command of the lines of communication in South Africa, reports that in the disaster to the British troops, June 7, at Roodeval, where the Boers cut Lord Roberts's line of communications, the members of the Fourth Battalion of the Derbyshire Regiment were all killed, wounded or made prisoners, except six enlisted men. Two officers and fifteen men were killed, and five officers and seventy-two men were wounded, many of them severely.

The Boers returned the wounded to the British. The officers killed were Lieut.-Col. Bayard Douglass and Lieut. Hawley. The wounded include Col. Wilkinson and Lieut. Blanchard of the Canadian Infantry. Gen. Forestier-Walker's dispatch in full is as follows:

"CAPE TOWN, Sunday, June 10.—The following telegram has been received from Charles Knox:

"'KROONSTADT.—The following casualties reported from Roodeval June 7, received from Stoneham, commanding the Imperial Yeomanry Hospital, dated Rhenoster River, June 8, received here by flag of truce, June 10:

"'The Fourth Battalion of the Derbyshire Regiment (The Sherwood Foresters,) killed; Lieut.-Col. Bayard Douglass, Lieut. Hawley and fifteen of the file. Wounded: Col. Wilkinson, Capt. Bailey, Lieuts. Hall, Lawder and Blanchard, and fifty-nine of the rank and file; the Shropshire Light Infantry, one; Cape Pioneer Railroad Regiment, seven; ammunition park, Royal Marines and Imperial Telegraphs, one each; Postoffice corps, nine.

"'Stoneham reports that many were severely wounded, and the remainder of the Fourth Derbyshire and details of prisoners, except six of the rank and file, are in his camp. All the wounded are in his camp, lately occupied by the Fourth Derbyshire. Inquiries are being made as to the names.'".

It is inferred that the Boers captured over five hundred men, and as late as June 10 held positions cutting off the British forces north of Kroonstadt from reinforcements.

A dispatch from Gen. Forestier-Walker says Gen. Methuen was fighting within ten miles of Heilbron, June 6, as follows:

"CAPE TOWN, Sunday, June 10.—Gen. Kelly-Kenny reports from Bloemfontein this morning that Methuen, with the greater part of his division, was fighting early in the morning of June 5, ten miles south of Heilbron, where Colville was reported to be with the Highland Brigade. Methuen left Lindley June 4, with ample supplies for himself and Colville, leaving Paget to hold Lindley with a sufficient force and supplies.

"Kelly-Kenny has ordered Knox to press in the enemy's outpost, believing the enemy's strength to be exaggerated. All is quiet, and there is no anxiety as regards the district to the south. Communications north of Kroonstadt have been cut since June 6."

News of the shutting-off of Lord Roberts's communications with the outer world and accompanied by such a serious loss came like a bolt from a comparatively clear sky. In London, until the news came, it was thought that the destruction of the railroad was accomplished by Free Staters, who were avoiding rather than annihilating the British detachments stationed at the point attacked. Nor are Gen. Forestier-Walker's vague statements regarding Methuen and the situation at Heilbron looked upon as reassuring. The Boers appear to be in sufficient strength to completely separate all the British forces north and south of a line stretching some fifty miles between Roodeval and Heilbron.

Methuen's march upon the latter place seems somewhat in the nature of a movement for the relief of Colville. The only British officer left at Roodeval appears to be the doctor in charge of the hospital, which is full of wounded. What has happened to the troops immediately north of Roodeval is still a matter for conjecture.

All in all, today's dispatches reveal that the situation is far more serious than any one imagined. The Ministerialist caucus at Cape Town has resulted unfavorably to Premier Schreiner, only ten supporting him, and Schreiner has given notice of his intention to resign. The question at issue is Schreiner's desire to introduce immediately bills punishing the colonial rebels and indemnifying the government for acts committed under martial law.

A Cape Town dispatch to the Times says: "It is impossible to say whether Mr. Schreiner will manage to form a coalition ministry with the cooperation of Mr. Rose-Innes, and possibly even Gordon Sprigg, or whether Sir Alfred Milner will entrust the task to Sprigg."

There is no further word of Gen. Buller's progress. Reports from Maseru, Basutoland, June 9, say the Boers around Clifickburg refuse to surrender, and severe fighting is expected, though a dispatch of June 8 from Hammonis, which is only a few miles from Ficksburg, says the situation in the southeast corner of the Orange River Colony is unchanged: that Gen. Rundle has received the Boer delegates sent to negotiate peace terms, and that the result of the negotiations is not known.

SURRENDERED TO HUNTER.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]

VANTERSDORP, June 11.—Two hundred and fifty Boers have surrendered to Gen. Hunter, and the remainder in this district have promised to give up their arms.

FORCES IN FREE STATE.

DEWET HAS THEM GUESSING.

[A. P. EARLY A.M. REPORT.]

LONDON, June 11.—A dispatch to the Tribune from London says the Boer commandoes in the Free State, commanded by Dewet and Olivier, probably muster about 5000 men. Opposed to them there are about six divisions, exclusive of the troops lining the railway. Gen. Colville, with the Ninth Division, is at Heilbron; Gen. Methuen, with the First, at Lindley; Gen. Chermside, with the Third, at Kroonstadt; Gen. Rundle and Gen. Brabant, with the Eighth and Colonial divisions, at Ficksburg; Gen. Clements, with the Twelfth brigade, at Senekal, and Gen. Kelly-Kenny with another brigade of the Sixth, and probably other forces, at Bloemfontein.

There must be 30,000 British troops available for operations against Dewet and Olivier, and each of these six columns is too strong to be attacked. Only two of the six columns are supplied directly by the railway, and the remaining four are either dependent upon convoys or endeavoring to live off the country. The difficulties of transport were serious enough to cripple these scattered forces, and when Dewet was cut off from communication from Kroonstadt, there were six generals awaiting orders, and there was nobody in supreme command in the Free State. There is no official news from any of these columns. Dewet could hardly hit upon cleverer tactics for throwing the British plans into confusion.

FIGHT ON A SHIP.

SEAMAN TRIES TO EXTERMINATE THE CREW.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]

PENSACOLA (Fla.,) June 11.—As the result of a fight on board the Italian bark Pieta in port here, G. Scotto, the first mate, is dead, Seaman Rafael Pisaro was fatally injured, and Capt. Mazella and another seaman were slightly wounded. Pisaro went on deck after short leave, apparently with the determination to exterminate the whole crew. He first assaulted the mate with a dirk, and then turned on the captain, and in doing so, was shot by the mate.

DEATH OF BELLE BOYD.

KILBOURNE (Wis.,) June 11.—Belle Boyd, the famous spy of Confederate fame, died suddenly of heart disease here tonight, where she had come to lecture. She was 57 years of age.

[CHINA.]

BEGS FOR A THRONE.

Kwang Hsu Appeals to the Powers.

Willing for Them to Set Up Protectorate.

Claims He Can Recover His Subjects' Loyalty.

Prince Tuan Elevated—Burning of American Mission.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

LONDON, June 12.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Shanghai correspondent of the Daily Express, telegraphing yesterday, says:

"Weng Tung Ho, Emperor Kwang Hsu's tutor and confidant, who was dismissed by the Dowager Empress after the coup d'etat in 1898, sends, with the special sanction of the Emperor and his party, including three Viceroys, a message to the people of the West. It is in part as follows:

"'His Majesty is convinced, through amply trustworthy sources, that the loyal support of many scores of millions of the Chinese will be accorded to his proposals for putting an end to the state of anarchy brought about by the action of the Empress Hsi Tsi.

"'The government of China being virtually nonexistent, the Emperor proposes that the foreign powers, whose troops dominate the capital, shall remove his imperial person from the palace in which His Majesty is confined a prisoner, shall declare Empress Hsi Tsi and her present ministers to be usurpers, and shall bring Emperor Kwang Hsu to Nanking, Wu Chang or Shanghai, whichever the said foreign powers deem to be the most suitable situation for the capital of the Chinese empire under the new conditions.

"'It is proposed by His Majesty and his advisers that the foreign powers should declare a joint protectorate and undertake the task of governing the country through His Majesty.

"'The message suggests that the protectorate should abolish certain boards in Peking, appoint new ministers, abolish the existing so-called armies, establish gendarmerie under foreign officers, take control of the customs, posts and telegraphs, and work them through Chinese officials; establish a uniform currency, readjust taxation and insure the freedom of religion. Weng Tung Ho, who predicts a peaceful acceptance of such a regime, goes on to say:

"'China is ripe for the change of tide which the reactionaries vainly seek to stem. If it should be, on the other hand, that the foreign powers seriously contemplate the dismemberment of the Chinese empire, they have before them the huge task of facing millions who, although lacking in training and who make but contemptible soldiers, possess boundless powers of passive resistance, and would be able to wear out the patience of any European rulers seeking to govern them without regard to the prejudices of the oldest civilization.

"'The conquest and division of China would be possible with 100,000 troops, but to retain the government would require 1,000,000 soldiers and centuries of work. The task would end with the most unhappy results for both conquered and conqueror. His Majesty and his advisers beg America and Japan to pause before resorting to dismemberment, which can be deferred at least until the Emperor's efforts to govern his people and to restore the happiness of this great division of the human race have proved abortive.

"'If the people are assured that the powers are guiding and protecting His Majesty, and do not intend to swallow the country piecemeal, they and the soldiers will return unquestionably to the allegiance from which the Empress diverted them.'"

PRINCE TUAN ELEVATED.

BAD FOR THE FOREIGNERS.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

LONDON, June 12, 3 a.m.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The last message out of Peking to reach London left there yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, going by way of the Russian telegraph through Manchuria, the Tien-Tsin line being cut. It is as follows:

"Gen. Tung, a Mohammedan, extremely hostile to foreigners, arrived here this morning, and had a long audience with Prince Tuan, father of the heir apparent, who is seemingly friendly to the 'Boxers.' Prince Tuan has been appointed chief of the Foreign Office over Prince Ching, who is more friendly toward the foreigners.

"A dispatch of more marines was in response to a telegram from the ministers to the consuls at Tien-Tsin, for additional troops. Conveyances have left Peking to meet the troops coming by the first train.

"The arrival of the Empress Dowager has rendered the city somewhat more quiet than it had been recently. The Protestants have erected a barricade before the building in which they have taken refuge, and they have a small guard. The Catholics are concentrated north of the cathedral under the protection of a French guard of twenty-five men, who will hold out to the end. I am convinced that Peking, especially the Tartar city, is safe.

"At Tien-Tsin, the Viceroy finally consented to furnish transport for a relief force of 400 under an American commander. The partial restoration of the railway is expected to be effected by tomorrow. More massacres of Christians are reported."

"Shanghai, under today's date, reports that there has been street fighting in Peking since early Sunday afternoon. Russians are making large purchases of canned provisions at Shanghai, and everything points to an outbreak of hostilities. All British missionaries will probably be ordered to return quickly to treaty ports."

The Shanghai correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, in a dispatch dated yesterday at 1:40 p.m., says reports from the Un Han Fu district say that the French Minister has telegraphed that a crisis is imminent, and that he is advising all foreigners to evacuate Yung Nan.

All the telegrams indicate that the situation has not in the least improved. On the contrary, the disorders have spread from the neighborhood of Peking to the capital itself, which is growing turbulent in anti-foreign demonstrations. In addition to the burning of the Peking Club, the secretary of the Belgian legation has been roughly handled in the streets.

Hostile crowds continue to demonstrate against the legations. Two thousand international troops are approaching the city, and the advance guard is due to arrive today (Tuesday.) The United States, according to dispatches from Copenhagen, has given "hearty adhesion" to the scheme for a European demonstration.

The Russian Minister at Pekin, who also acts as the envoy of Denmark, is credited with having sent a dispatch to the Danish Foreign Office to the effect that a demonstration has been planned, under the leadership of England and Russia, in which all the great powers and several of the smaller will take part. The latter are not called upon to send troops, as there are enough on the spot, but they are to be asked to delegate the right to hoist their flags with the great powers in order that a demonstration may be made or a battle fought under the flags of all Europe, Japan and the United States have been informed, but agree to the arrangement.

DOWAGER EMPRESS FLEES.

Reported to Have Gone to the Russian Legation.

Communication Between Tien-Tsin and Peking Interrupted.

[A. P. EARLY A.M. REPORT.]

LONDON, June 11.—[By Atlantic Cable.] A special dispatch from Tien-Tsin says it is reported that the Dowager Empress has fled to the Russian Legation at Peking.

FIGHT FOR A TRAIN.

TROOPS LEAVE FOR PEKING.

[A. P. EARLY A.M. REPORT.]

TIEN-TSIN, June 10.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Telegraphic communication between here and Peking was interrupted this morning. A special train left at 8 o'clock this evening with thirty British troops to guard Yang Tsun. It is reported that the natives will fight to prevent the train going to Tung Shan all the Northern China railways will be at a standstill.

Owing to difficulty in securing the Viceroy's permission for a third special train to start for Peking, the foreign troops occupied the cars, whereupon the Chinese engine driver ran away with his locomotive. The crowd tried to pull up the track, but the troops cleared the rabble away at the point of the bayonet and seized the engine.

On learning of this the Viceroy granted permission, and the train left at 5:15 p.m., with about 900 men. The force was made up of 350 Germans, eighty British, and the rest French troops.

ACTION BY UNITED STATES.

AMERICANS TO BE PROTECTED.

[A. P. EARLY A.M. REPORT.]

NEW YORK, June 11.—A special to the Tribune from Washington says the intervention of the United States in the Chinese crisis involving the representations already made by Minister Conger together with the action taken by Admiral Kempff, both under the discretion allowed them by the President's instructions, are declared officially to exhaust this government's resources, so far as they can be applied at the present time. Without a distinct change in national policy, which is regarded as most remote and except under gravely complicated international conditions affecting not only the stability of the Chinese empire, but the equilibrium of Europe, the offices of American squadrons at Peking and Tien-Tsin, as well as to future centers of disturbance, will be limited to such efforts for the protection of American interests as the participation by Minister Conger in the insistent demonstration made by all the foreign representatives upon the Tsung Li Yamen and the Dowager Empress for affording security to the life and property of aliens, and to the landing of armed forces and the dispatch of gunboats to furnish the necessary protection in case of China's failure to comply.

Beyond this, it is now clearly understood in Washington, other nations propose to go, perhaps at once, and the United States, while entering the concert up to that point, will act independently if at all, in proceedings which will probably lead to a change of dynasty, and perhaps a revolution through the empire. It is promised, however, that whatever occurs the commercial interests of this country upon the basis established in the written "open door" compact shall not be modified even in case of the occupation by other powers of all the remaining coast line and the extension of spheres of influence beyond their present exceedingly elastic limits.

The contingency of permanent territorial encroachment is regarded as too distant just now to call for more specific explanation by the United States than has already been given, for it is believed the extensive military operations by the foreign forces around Peking and Tien-Tsin may involve only a brief campaign, resulting in such a salutary lesson to the unprogressive element of China as to permit prompt withdrawal after order is restored.

These operations, upon rather a large scale, it is now feared, cannot be avoided, but it is unlikely that the United States will contribute ashore more than 300 marines and sailors to the combined forces, this number being already at Tien-Tsin, and on the way there. This number is regarded as a fair proportion for the United States to supply, considering the relative number and value of Americans and property requiring protection, compared with the similar responsibilities of Russia, England, Japan, Germany and France. If, as now apprehended, the anti-foreign rioting is to extend beyond the small district of its present violence, and the widespread American missionary interests upon the Yang Tse are endangered, it is more than likely that Admiral Kempff will have to spare much of his available force in that direction.

The State Department was without advices from Peking today. This would be looked upon as ominous, were it not known that telegraph connections with the capital are still intact, and that Minister Conger was not debarred from communicating, if he had anything important to report, or if an emergency had arisen to compel him to seek further instructions. Admiral Kempff's silence was also reassuring to the naval authorities, who profoundly believe that the whole Chinese trouble is the outcome of a conspiracy of the native officials, with the consequent restriction of the army operations, on account of the impassability of the country, will compel greater naval activity in the archipelago, requiring increased vigilance to protect the ports and prevent the filibustering party man detached from Admiral Kempff's fleet for duty in Admiral Remey's squadron can be spared only with difficulty, and at great hardship to those on already under-manned ships and gunboats.

International Club also Destroyed—Attack on Belgian Secretary.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]

BERLIN, June 11.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The German Foreign Office has received a dispatch from Peking, dated Sunday afternoon, saying the American mission house at Tung Chow, the river port of Peking, has been burned by natives. The officials of the Foreign Office suppose this happened Saturday or Sunday morning.

The dispatch further says the International Club, outside of a gate of Peking, had been burned and that the Belgian secretary of legation was attacked by Chinese soldiers. The Foreign Office interprets the latter news as confirming the serious views taken of the situation, and expressing fear that the German embassy will be next attacked.

An official of the Foreign Office called attention to a remark ascribed to Col. John Hay, the United States Secretary of State, to the effect that the United States could not enter into any alliance with the powers regarding China, and added: "There is no question of an alliance, which is unnecessary, but only of a political combination for a specific purpose. This is no political question, but a police question. The case involves the interest of no single nation, but of all in common."

It was further added at the Foreign Office that there are now 550 foreign soldiers at Tien-Tsin. Of the 1200 now on the way to Peking, 158 are German. They will repair the railroad as needed, thereby reaching Peking today. One of the two telegraph wires to Peking, which was destroyed, has been repaired.

The German gunboat Tiger has been ordered to sail for China. The German Governor of Tien-Tsin has been ordered to codperate in quelling the disturbances.

AMERICANS STOOD FIRM.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]

TIEN-TSIN, June 10, Sunday.—It is learned that but for the firmness of the United States Consul and Capt. McCalla of the Newark, in charge of the American landing party, and of the British Consul, there would have been further delay in despatching the international guards to Peking, and the majority of the forces would not have been British.

At a meeting of the Consuls and commanders of troops, last evening, when the necessity for the immediate dispatch of troops was considered, the representatives of two European powers questioned the necessity and apparently disagreed with the idea that British force should preponderate. The Anglo-Americans generally deplore the gentleness of the United States forces here. At the same time, they are ready to defer to whatever may be considered best at Washington.

RUSSIA OFFERS MEN.

HER GOOD FAITH DOUBTED.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]

LONDON, June 11.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The return of the Emperor of China and the Dowager Empress to Peking from the Summer Palace is regarded as a hopeful sign, but otherwise there is no favorable news from China with the exception that there is evidence of a continued perfect understanding between the various powers and the announcement that the international guards will probably arrive at Peking today. Should these prove to be insufficient to restore order, Russia is apparently preparing to deal with the crisis, judging from a dispatch from St. Petersburg, which follows:

"As a result of an understanding between the Russian government and the other powers, a dispatch has been sent to Port Arthur ordering that 6000 men of the Russian garrison there shall be held in immediate readiness to leave for Tien-Tsin whenever the Russian Minister at Peking asks for their assistance, or circumstances require their intervention."

With reference to the St. Petersburg dispatch, the Associated Press is officially informed that Great Britain is a party to any understanding, nor has she been consulted as to the advisability of landing a large number of Russian troops. The Foreign Office officials here frankly express the belief that no such instructions as those referred to in the dispatch from St. Petersburg have been sent to the Russian Minister at Peking.

According to a dispatch from Shanghai, dated today, 4000 Russians, with twenty guns, have already been landed at Tien-Tsin, and are marching in the direction of Peking. Shanghai rumors, however, must be accepted with caution. A dispatch from Peking, dated Saturday evening, June 9, says:

"A body of forty 'Boxers,' armed with knives, have looted and burned the Peking Club race track and grand-stand buildings. Another edict this morning orders the military Governor to police the streets with cavalry and infantry. Nevertheless, in the neighborhood of the legations, the street continues thronged with the roughest kind of a mob, ready to break out at the slightest provocation.

"United States Minister Conger has sent twenty marines, and the British Minister, Sir Claude M. MacDonald, twelve marines to guard the Methodist mission compound, where members of all denominations of Protestants had gathered. The Roman Catholics assembled in the North Cathedral in West Peking, have a small guard of French marines, but the converts have been well armed by Bishop Favier, and will desperately resist attack.

"Business is practically at a standstill. Constantly increasing streams of 'Boxers' parade the streets at their pleasure, much to the alarm of the merchants, although thus far there has been no looting of the native shops."

ANXIETY OVER AMERICANS.

MISSIONARIES NOW IN CHINA.

[A. P. EARLY A.M. REPORT.]

NEW YORK, June 11.—All of the foreign missionary society officers in New York are apprehensive as to the safety of missionaries in the North China district, sent out under American auspices.

Representing the Methodist Episcopal Church in the district where the "Boxers" are making trouble, are Anna Gleen, M.D., of Chicago; Frances O. Wilson, Des Moines; Mrs. Charlotte M. Sewell and Mrs. Barrows, M.D., both registered from the New York city bureau; Annie E. Steere, Effie G. Young, Gertrude Gilman, C. M. Frey, E. G. Glover, Rachel R. Benn, M.D.; Ida M. Stevenson, M.D.; Edna G. Terry, M.D.; Miranda Croucher and Mary E. Sherkley.

The Congregational Church in this country reports more missionaries in the North China district than any other denomination. Among them are Edwin E. Aiken, Maud L. Aiken, William S. Ament, Mary A. Ament, Mary B. Andrews, Abbie G. Chapin, Jane E. Chapin, Flora M. Chapin, Franklin M. Chapin, Jane G. Evans, Charles H. Ewing, Bessie G. Ewing, George H. Ewing, Sarah H. Ewing, Howard S. Galt, Louise A. Galt, Chauncey Goodrich, Sarah B. Goodrich, Anna A. Gould, Ada Haven, James H. Ingram, M.D.; Myrtle B. Ingram, John L. Mater, Mary Land Mater, Luella Miner, Mary S. Morrill, Virginia C. Murdock, M.D.; Willis C. Noble, M.D.; Willa J. Noble, Frances B. Patterson, Albert P. Peck, M.D.; Celia F. Peck, Henry P. Perkins, Estella L. Perkins, M.D.; Horace T. Pitkin, Leila T. Pitkin, Henry D. Porter, M.D.; Elizabeth C. Porter, Mary H. Porter, James H. Roberts, Grace L. Roberts, Nellie N. Russell, Derelle C. Sheffield, D.D.; Eleanor W. Sheffield, M. Elizabeth Sheffield, Arthur H. Smith, D.D.; Emma D. Smith, William F. Sprague, Vlette J. Sprague, Charles A. Stanley, Ursula Stanley, Elwood G. Tewksbury, Grace H. Tewksbury, Edward R. Wagner, M.D.; Myrtle C. Wagner, George D. Wilder, Gertrude W. Wilder, Mark Williams, E. Gertrude Wyckoff and H. Grace Wyckoff.

The Christian and Missionary Alliance has these American missionaries in Chansi province: Miss D. W. Duero, Miss Amy Brown, Mr. and Mrs. J. Woodberry, Miss H. Rutherford, Mr. and Mrs. Larsen, Miss Leithauson, Miss A. Gowan.

There are also thirty-four Swedish missionaries at these points.

NO DISMEMBERMENT.

POWERS HAVE PROMISED IT.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The Chinese crisis continues to be an absorbing topic at the foreign embassies and legations in Washington, but the prevailing sentiment is that it will be confined to mob outbreaks and will not eventuate in a territorial dismemberment involving the various powers. It is pointed out that up to this time the foreign powers have stated most positively that their sole purpose is to restore order and protect their citizens and property, and while there has been some suspicion of an ulterior motive on the part of some of them, this has not taken form.

On the contrary, all the official declarations have disavowed anything more than a desire to restore order. The Spanish Minister at Peking is dean of the diplomatic corps there but as Spain has practically no interests in China, Sir Claude MacDonald, who is second in point of service to the Spanish Minister, will act as dean during this upheaval, the other Ministers who have interests to protect cooperating with him. That serious international entanglements are not expected soon is indicated to some extent by the departure from this city of the foreign representatives.

The Russian Ambassador, Count Cassini, has already gone; Ambassador Cambon of France will leave on the 20th inst. for Europe, and Lord Pauncefote is making arrangements to go to Newport for the summer, July 1. At the same time it is felt that China is in such a foment that an international crisis beyond the mob uprisings confined to China may be precipitated at any moment. The Chinese Minister, Wu Ting Fang, is naturally disturbed at the seriousness of the reports, but in the complete absence of official information, he believes the reports are magnified, and that the underlying causes of the attacks on the foreigners have not been given. A knowledge of this point, he feels, will permit a much better judgment of the situation.

In some foreign quarters it has been thought the Chinese government would have indication, through its ministers abroad, of its views on the landing of foreign troops and its ability unaided to cope with the situation, but not a word as to this has been received here.

Secretary Long this afternoon stated that he had sent no direct answer to Admiral Kempff, nor was such an answer necessary in view of the subsequent cablegram to Admiral Remey at Manila. The reinforcements, in the shape of 100 additional marines, which will come to him from Manila during the course of a week would indicate the department's position sufficiently. It will take the Solace a full week to make the trip, according to the estimate of the naval officers, for it is about 2000 miles from Manila to Taku.

It is declared at the Navy Department that Admiral Kempff is not entirely dependent upon this marine force from Manila for reinforcements, for he was authorized last week to call upon the United States naval vessels at Shanghai, the Yorktown and the Castine, for more men if he needed them, and it is suggested that the Oregon also may supply another force in addition to the twenty marines she has sent already to Admiral Kempff. It is evident that the Navy Department approves all Admiral Kempff has done up to this point, at least, as is shown by the disinclination to hamper him by instructions.

FRANCE AND THE "BOXERS."

NOTICE SERVED ON LATTER.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]

PARIS, June 11.—[By Atlantic Cable.] In the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon, M. Denys Cochin, Conservative, asked the government if adequate measures had been taken to arrest the insurrection in China and protect the French flag. The Minister of Foreign Affairs, M. Delcasse, replying, said China was a country of secret societies and that any one of these might give the signal for the insurrection. The acts of the rebels, he added, showed that for them the enemy is western civilization. They attack schools, missions, railroads and telegraphs, and the movement has become one of peril for foreigners, and even at Peking the insurrection has its employés who are ready to join it. Continuing, the Foreign Minister says:

"A community of danger dictates to the powers their resolutions. I wish to set aside all question of divergent views among them. What I affirm is that the surest guarantee of safety for each is a united front. If the Chinese government does not seek to repress the insurrection, of which it appears nowhere alarmed nor even surprised, it must expect new and grave misfortunes. I have placed at the disposition of the French Minister all our naval forces in Chinese waters and have instructed him to keep in constant communication with his diplomatic colleagues, among whom the most complete accord has not ceased to reign. The legations have just notified the government of China and the Dowager Empress that an end must be put to this peril which menaces the empire and European interests. Otherwise the powers will act for themselves."

UNDER BRITISH ORDERS.

ALL SAVE RUSSIA'S FORCES.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

LONDON, June 11.—[By Atlantic Cable.] A special dispatch from Shanghai dated today, says:

"All the naval forces except the Russians are acting under the orders of the British admiral. It is reported that the head of a foreigner has been seen exposed on a pole northwest of Tien Tsin. The Chinese are fleeing from Peking and Tien Tsin to Shanghai.

"There are ominous indications of outbreaks in the Yang Tse district. All classes of natives in the north display intense hostility toward foreigners, and the Chinese soldiers point their guns at foreigners as they pass."

MISSIONARIES ARE SAFE.

LEAVE TUNG CHO FOR PEKING.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]

BOSTON, June 11.—The Board of Commissioners for foreign missions has received a cablegram from Peking, dated yesterday, confirming the press dispatches that Tung Cho has been abandoned by the missionaries and that the missionaries are safe at Peking, but that the native converts have been massacred and scattered. There were sixteen missionaries at Tung Cho, nineteen native helpers, 215 native communists, 200 native adherents and 215 Sunday-school members. The total number of pupils in the educational department of Tung Cho was 220. Of the sixteen missionaries, four or five are known to be in this country on furlough.

CHRISTIANS MASSACRED.

Report from Missionaries at China's Capital.

One Hundred More Marines Added to the Forces of Kempff.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, June 11.—The following cable from Peking was received today by the Methodist Episcopal Board of Foreign Missions:

"PEKING, June 9.—Massacre native Christians. Situation foreigners critical. Press Washington.

[Signed] "DAVIS.
"GAMEWELL."

This came directly from the missionary society at Peking, of which Messrs. Davis and Gamewell are in charge. A copy of the message was immediately sent to President McKinley. In repeating the cable message to the President, Rev. A. B. Leonard, the missionary society, added "This means our people are in great peril and greatly need such protection as our government can afford."

REPORTS FROM KEMPFF.

OPENING LINES TO PEKING.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The following undated dispatch has been received at the Navy Department:

"Secretary of the Navy: Forces landed by the different nations. Opening communications to Peking. Americans joined.

[Signed] "KEMPFF."

Admiral Kempff also reports the arrival of the Monocacy at Taku.

MORE MARINES SENT.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The Navy Department has received the following cablegram from Admiral Kempff:

"TONG KU, June 11.—Secretary Navy, Washington: In case all communication Peking cut, not able to go alone. If other nations go, will join to relieve Americans, pending instructions. Situation serious. Battalion of marines from Manila has been urgently requested. Answer.

[Signed] "KEMPFF."

Upon receipt of the above, Secretary Long sent the following cablegram to Admiral Remey, at Manila:

"NAVY DEPARTMENT, June 11.—To Remey, Manila: Send by Solace immediately, all dispatch, to Kempff, one hundred marines, arranging, if practicable, that after landing, Solace shall continue homeward voyage as previously ordered.

[Signed] "LONG."

CONGER HAS DOUBTS.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Minister Conger was heard from again this morning. It is fortunate that, although telegraphic communication between the foreign forces at Taku and Tien-Tsin and foreign embassies and legations at Peking is interrupted through the cutting of telegraph wires, there yet remains a channel of communication between the officials at Peking and their home governments by overland wires to Shanghai and thence by cable. It also is possible, through this roundabout way, for a connection to be maintained between the foreign diplomats and their naval commanders at Taku.

Minister Conger's telegram was to the effect that the Pao Ting foreign missionaries are safe up to the present; that the Chinese government has sent troops there and promises ample protection to the mission, though it is not thought that this protection will insure safety. According to Minister Conger, it is impossible at this moment to send any foreign forces from Peking to Pao Ting Fu. Mr. Conger's doubt as to the permanence of the Chinese ability to protect the missions is in line with his previous expressions of opinion, indicating a belief in his mind that the few Chinese generals who are disposed to protect foreigners are to be overcome by the element at the Chinese court, which is favorable to the "Boxers."

The attitude of the United States government respecting the "Boxer" troubles has been misrepresented in certain quarters. It can be stated authoritatively that up to this point not the first step has been taken toward sending any troops from Gen. MacArthur's army in the Philippines to China. It was decided last week that none of the troops could be spared, even if wanted, and that none would be spared if they could be, for such a purpose in the present aspect of the Chinese trouble.

Minister Conger asked for further instructions, and was directed to proceed with energy in the protection of American interests, and more especially with the protection of the American legation and the lives of American citizens in China. He was warned, however, not to be a party to any alliance or combination of the groups of powers. He was to act independently whenever this was practicable, although he was not forbidden to take concurrent action with other diplomatic representatives, if sudden necessity should arise for it. He was to do nothing to commit the United States to further action. The traditional policy of the United States in this respect was to be strictly observed.

The naval officials say that the Nashville can scarcely reach Taku before Friday or Saturday next. Then the run up the shallow and rapid Pei-Ho River at Tsie-Tsin will consume another day. The Yorktown and Castine at Shanghai are rapidly being put into shape for sea. They were undergoing repairs, but this work doubtless will be hastened, so that if the conditions become more grave at Tien-Tsin, one or both of the ships can reach there from Shanghai even before the Nashville arrives.

RUSSO-JAPANESE WAR.

WAS NEAR SIX WEEKS AGO.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

VICTORIA (B. C.), June 11.—The steamer Queen Adelaide from the Orient brings a story that six weeks ago Japan and Russia were close to war over the land of a Japanese trader, whose removal was requested by Russia at Masampo. War was said to have been diverted by the refusal of Great Britain to act with Japan.

Advices from Shanghai tell of the murder of the Chinese general, Yang Loh, while parleying with the "Boxers" near Ting Fu. He was cut down from behind.

The French Consul at Yarran has been found to be supplying arms to the rebels in South China, and the Chinese government has asked for his removal.

JAPAN PRESSING KOREA.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

YOKOHAMA, June 11.—The Korean government has proposed to postpone the audience which the Japanese Minister has asked of the Emperor pending a settlement of the questions growing out of the recent execution of a returned political refugee. The Japanese government is reported to have replied with a demand for an immediate audience.

NOTES FROM TIEN-TSIN.

FIFTH FOOD TRAIN DEPARTS.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

TIEN-TSIN, June 11.—[By Asiatic Cable.] An American officer who has just arrived from the front for provisions, reports that the forces are repairing the track between Lofa and Lang-Fang. He caught a "Boxer" last night who was attempting to set fire to a bridge, and he saw several corpses, evidently the bodies of men killed by troops of Gen. Nieh.

The fifth train left at 5 p.m. today with provisions. Great anxiety is felt here respecting the fate of the foreigners in Peking.

The troops cannot reach the capital before Tuesday night, and the fear is that an attack will be made before then. It is reliably asserted that the Russians will land over seventeen hundred men, with artillery, tonight, provided they can get transportation over the bay.

POWERS HARMONIOUS.

GERMAN OFFICIAL'S BELIEF.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

BERLIN, June 11.—[By Atlantic Cable.] From a high official of the Foreign Office the correspondent of the Associated Press received the following statement respecting Germany's attitude in the Far East:

"Germany adheres to her idea of joint action by the powers in China. Thus far the powers have been acting together harmoniously, and there is no indication that any power means to take a separate advantage. The German Foreign Office has received no official proof nor any evidence tending to show that the Empress Dowager is making common cause with the 'Boxers.'

"The instructions that have been sent to the chief of the German squadron, Admiral Von Bendemann, are comprehensive enough to meet the requirements of the case. If necessary, a third marine battalion will be dispatched from Kiao Chou to Peking, but no more ships."

LIFTING A LOAD.

HASTINGS (Minn.), June 11.—Ignatius Donnelly today issued his formal acceptance of the People's party nomination for Vice-President. The letter of acceptance is almost entirely devoted to a discussion of the financial question and "plutocracy." He pleads for fiat money. On the subject of plutocracy he says:

"Plutocracy will never be overthrown by the Democratic party, with its head in Wall street, and its tail in the Mississippi Valley. We must have a party dreadfully in earnest, and in which there is not a single plutocrat.

"Regret it as we may, plutocracy is as much of a sectional question today as slavery was in 1856. It is the battle of the money-lending region against the money-borrowing region; the section where the dollar is bigger than the man against the section where the man is infinitely bigger than the dollar. It is Threadneedle street against the Spirit of '76.

"Our government is a republic, and yet our rulers have stood silently by while a monarchy has trampled the life out of two of our fellow-republics in South Africa. Give the People's party power, and we will put a stop to this state of things. War is evil, but national degradation is a greater evil.

"If this nation is to live as a free republic, it needs the People's party, with its heroic breed of statesmen, who aim at something higher than a squabble for petty offices."

FERN GETS A SHARE

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The Court of Claims decided today that the crew of the United States ship Fern are entitled to a share in the distributions of the bounty money which is to be paid by the government for the destruction of Cervera's fleet.

The court held that the Fern was within signaling distance and was capable of rendering assistance at any moment during the battle. The case was contested by the attorneys for Admiral Sampson and others.

GOLD EXPORTS FOR EUROPE.

NEW YORK, June 11. — There was talk in banking circles today of several gold exports on the French steamer leaving this port Thursday next. The amount of these shipments was variously estimated at from $1,000,000 to $2,500,000. The names of the probable shippers were not disclosed.

Y.M.C.A. SECRETARIES ADJOURN.

THOUSAND ISLAND PARK (N. Y.), June 11.—The conference of the Y.M.C.A. secretaries has adjourned, to meet in 1901 in Boston.

SEATTLE, June 11.—The steamer San Juan sailed for Nome today, carrying 300 passengers and 2000 tons of freight.

LONG WAY FROM HOME.

Mrs. Lehman of Pasadena Found a Friend.

Chicago Judge Acquits Her of Stealing a Sealskin Cape.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, June 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The case against Mrs. E. H. M. Lehman of Pasadena, Cal., who was charged with stealing a sealskin cape from Samuel Weiner, a traveling man, was dismissed by Justice Prindiville in the Harrison-street Police Court today. When questioned by Inspector Hartnett, Mrs. Lehman's answers bore every mark of frankness and straightforwardness.

"I admit my actions might appear a little adventuresome," said Mrs. Lehman, "yet Mr. Collier, whom I met at Stevens's fur store, seemed to know me well, and he introduced Mr. Weiner to me as his friend. I do not think that I did anything dreadful in accepting his escort to the theater. I didn't think anything more of accepting a cape than I would have of a box of candy, for Mr. Weiner made light of the affair, saying that he had several like it."

Mrs. Lehman's maiden name was Edna Larken, and as such she is well known in Chicago in musical circles. She graduated when she was 16 years old from Prof. Ziegfeld's Chicago College of Music. She also attended Prof. Sherwood's Conservatory. Her husband is a well-to-do commission merchant in South Pasadena, Cal. She says that she has written to him the circumstances of her trouble.

"I am sure," said she, "that my husband will understand and believe my interpretation of the situation, and that the affair will cause no embarrassment between us. Unless he writes to me to wait for him, I shall proceed to New York, as I intended."

Mrs. Lehman stated that her father is not living, but that her mother, Mrs. J. C. Larken, is the owner of ranches in California, two near South Pasadena and one near Los Angeles.

Mrs. Lehman's Husband.

The husband of Mrs. Lehman is in the fish business, with an office at No. 105 East Fourth street, Los Angeles. He was thunderstruck on reading of his wife's arrest yesterday morning and immediately telegraphed for particulars.

"There is not a word of truth in the story telegraphed from Chicago, that my wife ran off with an Arizona man," said he yesterday afternoon. "She left this city for a little trip to the East a few days ago, and bade me good-by at the train. I received a postal card from her, dated at Denver. This whole thing is a mystery to me, and I am all broken up over the affair."

CAPTURED A PRESIDENT.

Colombia's National Forces Arrested Santos.

Commander Logan Reports Their Defeat, but Reports Conflict.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, June 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Eduardo Espinosa, Colombian Consul-General, said today that he had received a cable dispatch from Panama stating the government forces in Santander have captured Gen. Vargas Santos, provisional president of the revolutionary government. The dispatch, which is from Gen. Bellsario Losada, chief government commander of Panama, adds that Santos has been put on board the steamer Alice, and is now on the way to Cartagena. Santos, besides being executive chief of the provisional government, is also head of the rebel army. He is 72 years of age. Consul-General Espinosa said the government will probably incarcerate Santos at Bocachica prison at Cartagena, which was built by the Spaniards.

Dr. A. Diaz Guerra, agent in this city of the revolutionists, ridiculed the report of Santos's capture. He said the dispatch probably had reference to Gen. José Santos, former Minister of War, who had been charged with complicity in the revolution. He is now in prison awaiting the finding of the council of war. Dr. A. J. Restrepo, diplomatic representative here of the revolutionists, laughed when he heard of the dispatch from Panama.

NATIONAL FORCES BEATEN.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The following dispatch has been received at the Navy Department:

"COLON, June 10.—Secretary Navy, Washington: It is reported that an engagement has taken place, resulting in the defeat of the national forces yesterday. By their exchange of Panama, national forces retreated; ammunition nearly exhausted. They have been reinforced and ordered to renew attack. Loss in killed and wounded, five officers. Reports are very conflicting. I shall remain here.

[Signed] "LOGAN."

LOGAN READY TO ACT.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The cablegram was from Commander Logan of the cruiser Machias, which has been lying on the Gulf side of the Isthmus of Panama for the past month, protecting American interests. It is said at the Navy Department that Commander Logan would be prepared at a moment's notice to put a force of marines and sailors on a special train and rush them across the Panama Railroad to Panama if their presence there should become necessary to safeguard the lives of Americans and American property.

The message received today was partly mangled. It is believed that the commander meant to say that it appeared from the reports of the exchanges at Panama that the government forces have been defeated. The latest reports from the eastern part of Colombia, however, represent the total defeat of the insurrection.

NO PACIFIC MAIL BOND ISSUE.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Collis P. Huntington, president of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, declared today that reports to the effect that the company will issue bonds to meet certain obligations is not true. No action looking to a bond issue has been considered, according to Mr. Huntington.

IT'S NOT FOR SCOTT.

Boom Will not Come That Far West.

Long-headed Men Said to Have Long in Mind.

ble Democratic Convention to Meet Today—Split in Silver Bow.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, June 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Irving M. Scott's Vice-Presidential boom, which got started at New York yesterday, had already been quietly discussed here. Mr. Scott is recognized as a good man for any place, but the Republicans do not feel that the second place on the ticket ought to go to any but a very prominent man from the Middle West or East. The Pacific Coast is this year counted to be solidly Republican. The Middle West, such as the States of Indiana, Minnesota and Michigan, are not supposed to be quite so sure. Hence it is deemed advisable to go no further West for the Vice-President if the West is to get the place at all, which is doubtful.

There is a good deal of talk going on today that Senator Allison of Iowa will be asked to take the nomination. If he is asked, the chances are about 1 to 1 he will decline, because he prefers his seat in the Senate.

Of serious candidates the matter appears narrowed down to Long and Dolliver, with a large preponderance of big men in the party favoring Long. Dolliver finds favor with young men on account of his dash in debate. But the solid, long-headed men, who really lead the party, say Long is the man for them this year. It is possible and almost probable, that the convention at Philadelphia will rise in its enthusiastic might and nominate Gov. Roosevelt of New York for Vice-President, and it is certain that, if that is done, Roosevelt will get up on the platform and make a speech declining the office. Senator Hanna says he knows positively that Roosevelt will decline, if nominated. He said that Saturday night, and Hanna ought to know, for he has been talking with Roosevelt about this very thing lately.

BRYAN AND DEWEY.

TALK OF OHIO DEMOCRATS.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

COLUMBUS (O.), June 11.—The Democratic State Convention will be held here tomorrow. There is much talk about Bryan and Dewey being nominated at Kansas City. John R. Mc-Lean has announced that he must remain here with his family next Monday, and that he cannot attend the convention in Columbus this week. It does not expect to return in time to attend the Kansas City convention. He would be placed at the head of the Ohio delegation to Kansas City if he would give his consent. He declines absolutely.

Those who propose the combination of Bryan and Dewey believe there is no doubt about the admiral accepting. There is some diversity of opinion as to whether this convention should make the initial step in the campaign, as well as Bryan for the national ticket.

The officers to be nominated in to-morrow's convention are Secretary of State, Dairy and Food Commissioner, and two of the Board of Public Works and Justice of the State Supreme Court. For each of these nominations there are several candidates.

Four delegates-at-large to Kansas City will also be selected. In this connection the names are frequently mentioned are those of ex-Congressman Tom L. Johnson, James Kilbreth, Congressman John B. Lamar, Judge A. W. Patrick, Frank M. Mantz, Herman Groesbeck, William E. Thomas and Judge E. J. Blandin. The latest contest for delegate-at-large is between Congressman Lents and Col. Jesse Kilbourne, both of whom reside in Columbus.

JONES BEGINS PLANNING.

TO MEET BRYAN WEDNESDAY.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, June 11.—Senator James K. Jones, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, arrived in Chicago today, and will be here several days looking over the preliminary work for the Presidential campaign. Wednesday William J. Bryan will meet Senator Jones here for a final conference before the Kansas City Convention.

Jones said: "There is absolutely no truth in the report that I will endeavor to persuade Mr. Bryan to consent to the dropping of the 16-to-1 plank from the platform this year. There will be no abandonment of any of the Chicago platform."

CALIFORNIA DELEGATES.

COLUMBUS (O.,) June 11.—The Democratic State Convention will be held tomorrow. There is much talk of Bryan and Dewey being sent to Kansas City. John R. Those who propose the combination say that Dewey believes there is no chance of the admiral accepting, but in case diversity of opinion as to whether this convention should take the initial step in indorsing Bryan as well as Bryan for the nation, it is believed the efforts to be nominated in-to-Dewey's convention are Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, Secretary of the Navy Long, Secretary of the Board of Public Works Eckstein, Justice of the State Supreme Court Beatty, both of those nominations to be subsidiary to the nomination of delegates-at-large to Kansas City, who will also be selected. In this connection the names most frequently mentioned are those of ex-Congressman Tom L. Johnson, James Kilbreth, Congressman John B. Lentz, Judge A. W. Patrick, Frank M. REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

ALREADY OUTLINED.

[A. P. EARLY A.M. REPORT.]

CHICAGO, June 11.—A special to the Record from Washington, D. C., says that Republican leaders have already given attention to the platform to be adopted at Philadelphia. At a conference held by Senator Hanna Saturday the platform was outlined. Those present, besides the host, were Senators Spooner, Davis, Fairbanks, Lodge and Depew, and Postmaster General Smith.

It is said, the platform will declare that the insurrection in the Philippines has been stamped out, excepting guerrilla warfare, and civil government is being established; it will congratulate Porto Rico on the establishment of a territorial government, and Hawaii on annexation; commend President McKinley's administration as thoroughly American and prosperous; declare for the gold standard; favor reduction of war taxes; reaffirm the Monroe Doctrine; advise a vigorous foreign policy and the construction of the Nicaraguan Canal; condemn trusts and indorse legislation passed by the House; reaffirm protection and reciprocity policies, and declare Cuba will be given freedom as soon as it is safe.

[WASHINGTON.]

GEN. OTIS AT WASHINGTON.

He Meets the President and Others at White House.

General Leaves for West Point and Will Make Report Later.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Maj.-Gen. E. S. Otis, accompanied by his aides, Capt. Hayden and Lieut. Stanley, reached Washington this morning. He was met at the station by Adjt.-Gen. Corbin and Gen. Schwan, and the party was driven directly to the Arlington Hotel. After breakfasting, Gen. Otis repaired to the War Department, where he formerly reported to Mr. Meiklejohn as acting Secretary. Thence Gen. Corbin escorted him and his aides to the White House. The President was in his private office in close consultation with Senator Allison, Senator Cullom and Justice Harlan when the party arrived.

Gen. Otis and Gen. Corbin were immediately ushered into the library, where President McKinley met Gen. Otis with the utmost cordiality, congratulating him upon his apparent good health and thanking him several times for his signal services to the country.

Gen. Otis made no report to the President in detail. After a few minutes the President invited Gen. Otis into his office and presented him to Senators Cullom and Allison and Justice Harlan, and for over half an hour Gen. Otis remained talking over the situation in the Philippines.

The President and his visitors were intensely interested in what the general had to say and with his opinion of the existing situation in the archipelago. After Gen. Otis left the White House he was naturally reticent concerning the subject of his interview with the President, but he did not hesitate to reiterate his statement, made repeatedly since landing at San Francisco, that the Filipino rebellion as an organization was dead. When his attention was called to the views of President Taft of the Philippine Commission in the Manila dispatch printed this morning, he expressed the opinion that they were satisfactory. He said the United States would be compelled to keep up the Philippines for a considerable time as large an army as is there now.

"The army," he said, "will be needed as a matter of repression until the guerrillas are stamped out. The maintenance of this large force is necessary owing to the vast extent of territory which we must cover. We have established ourselves in Negros, Cebu, Samar, and many other islands in addition to Luzon, and are today actually exercising effective authority over more territory than Spain ever did."

Gen. Otis said practically all the leaders of the insurrection were either dead, captured or pacified. The recent capture of Gen. Pilar del Rio, he thought, had probably been effected with the consent of that general. So far as Aguinaldo himself was concerned the general was not inclined to credit the report of his death.

In his opinion it mattered little, however, whether Aguinaldo was dead or alive, as his influence had been completely destroyed. "Aguinaldo," he said, "is probably in hiding somewhere in the mountains of Northern Luzon, but he carries little more influence than any other individual at large. He is discredited and a dead issue."

Asked as to whether in the event of more acute complications in China troops could be spared from the Philippines for service there, Gen. Otis replied: "Possibly, possibly."

Gen. Otis will leave tonight for West Point, where he will report in person to Secretary Root. He is entirely in the dark as to his future assignment to duty. He will remain at West Point with the secretary until after the graduating exercises are over and will return to Washington with the secretary, arriving here on Thursday morning, when he will again call on the President and make a report in detail of the operations of the army under his command, and submit such suggestions and recommendations as shall seem to him proper. He will leave here again Thursday night for his old home at Rochester, where extensive preparations are being made to celebrate his home-coming enthusiastically.

PACIFIC COMMERCE.

ELABORATE CHARTING PLANNED

[A. P. EARLY A.M. REPORT.]

NEW YORK, June 11.—A special to the Herald from Washington says that important work for the benefit of commerce in the Pacific is to be performed by the navy now that Congress has authorized the appropriation of $100,000 for ocean and lake surveys.

Rear-Admiral Bradford, chief of the Bureau of Equipment, has approved a recommendation submitted by Commander Todd for an elaborate charting of the triangle formed by the Hawaiian Islands, the southernmost point of the Philippines and the islands of Japan.

It is also purposed to establish a path between Honolulu and the Philippines to be followed by American warships, so that if any become disabled others following may pick them up. It is believed that merchant vessels will be prompt to adopt the route. There is no general path.

Germany has not been expected to join in the survey of the Pacific, though it is believed that when she learns of the action of this government she will follow its example in making complete surveys of her Pacific islands.

It is understood, of course, that the United States can obtain more expeditious results by coöperating with other nations. Japan has expressed her willingness to chart the waters in the vicinity of her islands, and Great Britain has charted to some extent the China Sea and the East Indies.

BOUTELLE'S DISTRICT LOST.

FOSS TO RUN NAVAL AFFAIRS.

[A. P. EARLY A.M. REPORT.]

NEW YORK, June 11.—A special to the Times from Washington says that in making their calculations on carrying the House of Representatives next fall, most of the Republican arithmeticians count the probable loss of Mr. Boutelle's district in Maine. Mr. Boutelle has been renominated and will doubtless be reëlected, but his physical condition is such as to make it very improbable that he will be able to attend the first session of the Fifty-seventh Congress.

One of the most significant indications of the general belief that Mr. Boutelle will be unable to resume his duties for a long time to come is the announcement just made that Representative Foss of Illinois will not take a vacation. He intends to put in the summer up to the beginning of the active part of the fall in studying matters pertaining to the navy. He will visit the different naval stations and otherwise study to make himself thoroughly expert in all naval matters.

There is very little doubt that Mr. Foss will be chairman of the Naval Committee for a long time to come, if the Republicans retain control of the House. He is next to Mr. Boutelle on the committee, and has been acting chairman throughout this session. The chairmanship has been held open for Mr. Boutelle as a matter of courtesy, but Mr. Foss will probably become chairman in name as well as in fact before long.

Mr. Foss is one of the younger Representatives. He has narrowly escaped a blow which would have ended his influence in naval affairs in the House. When "Uncle Joe" Cannon, on the day before adjournment, humiliated Mr. Foss by getting the House to take the Naval Appropriation Bill out of his hands and put it in those of Cannon, Moody and Snafroth, the young Congressman was face to face with a serious blow to his prestige.

Had Cannon and his colleagues succeeded in accomplishing what Foss did not, the latter's influence would have been badly broken. Cannon, however, failed even more completely than did Foss, and the vote of lack of confidence was followed the next day by a vote of confidence. Naval affairs will therefore probably be in Mr. Foss's hands, unless Mr. Boutelle unexpectedly recovers during the next session.

SCANDALS IN CUBA.

GEN. LUDLOW DENIES CHARGES.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Gen. Ludlow, formerly Governor of Havana, has made a report to the War Department denying the recently-published statement, directly charging Surgeon-Major Davis with having accepted bribes to influence his official action, while acting sanitary officer of the city of Havana. The general's opinion is shown by the following extract from his report:

"The Cuban atmosphere as to public service is one of lies and deceptions; accusations are many and proofs are few; but seldom can the actual facts be obtained and verified. People will say almost anything, but will refuse to sign a statement or be sworn to it. In particular are some of the newspapers void of verity or virtue. Most of them serve personal interests, and depend for their income, not on their legitimate sales of issues and advertising, but upon receipts from purchased space to avoid public slander or exposure. The evil of falsity and false accusations is widespread and profound, and it will require a long time to eradicate it from the community in general.

"The American officers in Cuba have had all this to contend with, and nothing but absolute openness of conduct and sincerity of purpose of speech and action can protect them from it. It would be a waste of time to try to hunt down the swarm of irresponsible statements perpetually in circulation and eagerly picked up from the streets and cafés by the employés of a sensational press."

WHEAT WENT ALOFT.

WILD AND SOARING MARKET AT CHICAGO YESTERDAY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, June 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Despite the rains in the Northwest Saturday and Sunday, wheat soared 3 cents in a wild market today. For the first hour and a half this morning the wheat market on the Board of Trade experienced more activity and a larger business than for a long time, notwithstanding the remarkably large trades and great interest in the market the last week or two. Under the pressure of additional reports of the deplorable condition of the spring-wheat crop in the Northwest, wheat for delivery in July sold within a short space of time 2½ cents higher than the price which marked the close of Saturday.

This advance was not in the way of a sharp bulge, caused by liberal buying by individuals, but was of much greater consequence, being a strong upward pressure, augmented by liberal trading both ways. When the market closed Saturday, July wheat sold at 71 cents. Today it began at from 72 to 73¼ cents. Gradually it advanced to 74 cents, helped all the time by liberal buying orders.

That the crop reports today were the worst that have yet come to hand was acknowledged by all, and the entire speculative trade was interested in the course taken by the market. When 74 cents had been reached there was a pause. The "longs" showed a tendency to offer more liberally, and this acted as a temporary obstacle in the way of further advance. The price then receded somewhat. Down to 73¼ it went, and it rested there until the close.

"KEEPING CASES" ON RIO.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Surgeon-General Wyman has received a cablegram from Dr. Havelburg, the representative of the service in Rio de Janeiro, saying that there have been 108 cases there since May 6, and thirty-one deaths. Dr. Havelburg does not specify the epidemic to which he refers, but Dr. Wyman says he has no doubt that it is plague.

TROOPS FOR ST. LOUIS.

Gov. Stephens Will Send Them if Needed.

City Authorities Given Time to Suppress Outlaws.

Monday Passes Quietly—Strike Casualties—Mayor's Proclamation.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

JEFFERSON CITY (Mo.,) June 11.—Gov. Stephens today gave out the following statement which he had wired to the New York World regarding the St. Louis strike:

"Replying to your telegram, will say vigorous action has been taken by the State government and St. Louis police department to enforce respect for law in St. Louis and safety of property. The Republican Mayor, however, who is a candidate for renomination, not designing to offend, positively refuses to coöperate with us, which lends encouragement to the lawless element, and impedes our progress toward restoration of normal conditions.

"As Governor, I have conscientiously and fearlessly done by duty as my judgment directed. I have requested that 2500 urgency policemen be sworn in, and that the sheriff summon a posse of 2500 able-bodied and law-abiding citizens to serve under the direction of the Police Commissioners. It has not been deemed necessary by the commissioners up to this hour to order out the militia, the commissioners believing that they are equal to the emergency. There are only spasmodic outbreaks, which the police and deputy sheriffs have been able to manage. The stripping of the women to which you refer was done by three girls between the ages of 14 and 16. A saloonkeeper was also arrested on suspicion of being implicated. It was not thought best to order out the militia to shoot them. The girls have been tried and sentenced to terms in the Industrial Home for Girls. Most of the newspapers in St. Louis endeavor to stand in with the lawless element as well as with the better element, and think it popular to withhold support from State officers and constantly criticise any act of the police authorities.

"A similar strike upon the street railways was ordered in Kansas City about the same time the St. Louis strike was ordered, but proved a failure, because the Mayor, the newspapers and the Sheriff all coöperated with the police department.

"We have four regiments in Missouri, consisting of about 3000 men. The First Regiment, with two hours' notice, will be ready for duty. The other regiments can be mobilized in St. Louis within ten hours. Camping sites have been selected in the city, and details all arranged, and as soon as I am informed by the proper authorities that a tumult exists in the city, and that a condition of lawlessness and disorder prevails, with which the civil authorities are unable to cope, then the National Guard will be called out to preserve order, and prevent further disorder, and acts of violence without delay.

"Conditions are, indeed, bad enough, but exaggerated reports have reached the East. I feel the worst is over. It was demonstrated in St. Louis, when four or five strikers were shot and killed, that our authorities mean business. I believe that law and order will soon be restored, and the good name of St. Louis and the State will be preserved. Ninety per cent. of the good people indorse my action, since the strike was declared, and oppose the calling out of the militia until St. Louis admits, even with her police force and unlimited number of deputy sheriffs, that she cannot, at this time, take care of herself."

STRIKE CASUALTIES.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]

ST. LOUIS, June 11.—Monday opened quiet after yesterday's reign of terror. With one exception, all the street-car lines are in operation today. Chief of Police Campbell, who last week expressed an opinion that the troops should be called out, now says: "I would not recommend that the State troops be called upon just yet. The developments of yesterday, I think, show that we are able to handle the situation."

A revised list of yesterday's casualties follows:

Dead:

GEORGE RYNE, former conductor, shot.

C. EDWARD THOMAS, former conductor, shot.

FRED BOHNE, shot through a solid gate near his home by a deputy who was pursuing disturbers.

Fatally injured:

A. E. BURKHARDT, former conductor, shot in the head, cannot live.

Wounded:

OSCAR MARVIN, motorman, shot in hand; amputation necessary.

JOSEPH MULHAL, conductor, shot in right hand.

AUGUST SCHMIDT and AUGUST LUDWIG, shot in arm while in their third-story window.

ALBERT RADCOCK, deputy, shot in thigh and left foot; shots seem to have been fired from an upper window.

DANIEL WESTENBERG, shot in leg, accidental discharge of deputy's gun.

W. F. JONES, conductor, shot in eye.

JOHN M. WHITE, former conductor, shot in lower part of the back.

JOSEPH KUHN, skull fractured by a deputy.

EDWARD BERRY, a motorman, struck in face by a rock, nose smashed.

There is considerable hard feeling as the result of yesterday's shooting in front of the posse barracks. Sheriff Pohlman justified the action of his deputies.

The following telegram was sent to President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor by President W. D. Mahon of the National Association of Amalgamation of Street Railway Employés, who is managing the strike:

"Street-car men returning from a picnic this evening (Sunday,) marching behind a band of music, peaceably and unarmed, were fired upon by a sheriff's posse and shot down like dogs. The outrage at Hazletow melts into insignificance in comparison. This outrage should be denounced in no uncertain terms by the organized wage-earners of America."

President Mahon made the following statement today:

"The shooting down of our men like dogs was an outrage unparalleled in the history of the labor movement in the world. Hazelton and the bull-pen outrages of Idaho pale into insignificance when compared to it. Investigation shows that not one shot was fired by the railway men, nor did they have any firearms to shoot with.

"This outrage will be resented by organized labor, not alone in St. Louis, but throughout America. We will stand by our demands all the more since this affair and contest the struggle to the bitter end."

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

ST. LOUIS, June 11.—In answer to a letter directed by Chief of Police Campbell this evening to Mayor Zeigenhein, the following was issued by the latter:

"Whereas, during the pendency of the present railway strike and the crisis through which the city is now passing, it is of the utmost importance that all excitement be suppressed and that no acts of any kind be done which may tend to produce or create excitement in public places, such as the assembling of crowds or groups of persons upon the streets, the discussion of the situation in boisterous language, or the discharge of firearms or fireworks.

"Therefore, I, the undersigned, Mayor of the city of St. Louis, by virtue of the power and authority in me vested by law, do hereby proclaim and direct that all persons in the city of St. Louis refrain from gathering in numbers on the public streets or in public places; that all persons, particularly women and children, remain indoors as much as possible, until the present situation is relieved; that jeering or abusive language, or language calculated to provoke a breach of the peace, be not indulged in.

"And all persons are especially warned against the discharge, within the city limits, of firearms of any kind or description, and against the firing or exploding of bombs, torpedoes, firecrackers or any species of fireworks.

"All minors are warned to keep within doors during the next three days, and parents are notified that all minors found out of doors between one hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise are subject to arrest and imprisonment under the provisions of section 2129 of the revised statutes of Missouri of 1899.

[Signed]

"HENRY ZEIGENHEIN, Mayor."

President Henry B. Hawes of the Police Board said tonight that the Mayor's proclamation would be rigidly enforced.

Defeat of Yellow Tail—Whitewash for St. Louis—Other Games.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

CINCINNATI, June 11.—The second week of the Latonia Jockey Club races opened today with fine weather, and a great crowd. Eleven books were in line. The track was fast. Jockey Berman, while going to the post on Lord Eberly, in the first race, lost control of the horse, and was thrown over the fence at the six-furlong pole. His left leg was broken, and he was otherwise badly injured.

For the first time during the season the Judges had occasion to take action for foul riding. In the fourth race Xanthus cut off Nitrate and Problem, and was set back. Sakatuck did the same thing to Fair Deceiver in the last race, and was also disqualified. Jockey Nichaels was the guilty party in both cases, and was set down for the balance of the meeting for his poor judgment. Results:

CENSUS-TAKING AT GOTHAM.

LITTLE DIFFICULTY EXPERIENCED IN GETTING FACTS.

[A. P. EARLY A.M. REPORT.]

NEW YORK, June 11.—But five more days remain for the taking of the census in this city. According to law the task must be completed next Friday night, when the work of tabulating the returns will begin. Supervisor Charles S. Wilbur, who has charge of the work in the boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx, is confident that his force will finish its labors in good time and in a manner which will meet with approval. One-tenth of the districts in this country are complete and the returns have been forwarded to the census bureau in Washington.

Contrary to expectations, there has been but little difficulty experienced in getting at facts from residents of the districts in foreign quarters of the city. While members of the various foreign colonies were at first somewhat reticent, they became only too willing to answer questions when the matter was fully explained to them by the interpreters who are attached to Mr. Wilbur's staff. There have been little or no trouble in Chinatown. The residents of that section have readily given to the enumerators the information wanted. In Mr. Wilbur's opinion this has evidently been due to the consular proclamation which was issued by the Chinese consul generals in San Francisco and this city in obedience to the commands of the Chinese minister.

It is believed that the surprise of the census, so far as New York is concerned, will be the great number of Italians residing in this city who do not understand the English language. There has been a large increase in the local Italian population since the census was taken ten years ago. There are three Italian settlements now in this country. The old Italian quarter in Mulberry Bend, one in East Harlem and one in the borough of the Bronx, situated in the neighborhood of Morris avenue and One Hundred and Forty-ninth street. From unofficial sources it is learned that there is a larger percentage of Italians who do not understand English than any class of foreigners who have located here.

FOUND REBELS FORTIFIED

ASHANTI RELIEF EXPEDITION DOES SOME FIGHTING.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

LONDON, June 11.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Col. Willcks, in command of the Ashanti relief expedition, cables from Prahsu, under date of June 9, as follows:

"Have just received a message from Col. Carter from Kwisa, reporting that he advanced June 6, effecting a junction with Capt. Hall at Bekwai. He found the rebel forces strongly fortified at Dompoasi. The fight continued for a long time, and the enemy was dislodged, but on account of the loss of seven European officers wounded and ninety other casualties, he was unable to advance, and returned to Kwisa.

"There is no news of Kumassie. Hall is at Esumeja and Bekwai, which is friendly. Kokofu and Adansi are in a state of rebellion. The Dongiassi are probably joining the rebel forces."

"CAPE COAST, June 9.—Following is the purport of a dispatch received from Capt. Hall:

"'ESUMEJA, May 24.—Collected the forces at Esumeja, Ejinasi and Bekwai May 22. Considered it necessary to find out the strength of the rebel forces to the front and flank before advancing on Kumassie. The plan of the rebel forces was to hold our front at Epunum and outflank us from Kokofu. A garrison was left behind at Ejinasi. The remainder of the forces were concentrated at Esumeja, where we left fifty men and a Maxim. Told King at Bekwai to advance to Akodon as soon as he heard rifle fire or encountered serious opposition.

"'Within half an hour met resistance in a Kokofu village; repulsed the natives and burned the village in their sight. The Kokofu main villages were then attacked. Eight thousand held them for half an hour. Was unable to advance, but successfully withdrew.

"'Lieut. Edwards and six men were wounded. The enemy's loss was considerable. Decided to hold Esumeja, and to keep communications open for news of the main body.'"

SAID HE WAS MESSIAH.

WAY TAY, GONCE STIRS UP TROUBLE AMONG INDIANS.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

MINNEAPOLIS, June 11.—Word was received in Minneapolis today that there was danger of another Indian uprising at Leech Lake. An Indian giving the name of Way Tay Gonce appeared at the Leech Lake agency recently, and announced that he was the Messiah. He said that all of his descendants, Indians and white men, who lived in houses were soon to be destroyed by a big cyclone, but all Indians who lived in tepees would be saved.

The man secured the confidence of many of the Indians, who had such faith in him that about two hundred left the agency and went into camp on Squaw Point. The matter gradually grew so serious that Capt. Mercier, the Indian agent, sent out and had Way Tay Gonce arrested.

The other Indians remain on Squaw Point and are becoming ugly. They make many threats, and as there are no troops at the agency, trouble is feared.

LIFE HELD NO HOPE.

Chauncey A. Hawkins Takes Poison.

Young Los Angeles Man Who Could Get No Work.

Another Riot in Chinatown at San Francisco—Sealed Story.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Chauncey A. Hawkins, aged 23 years, whose wife is in Los Angeles, was found dead at his lodgings, No. 255 O'Farrell street, at noon today. Two vials of sulphate of morphine tablets were found near the bed, and they were apparently the cause of his death. The body was badly decomposed, but death had not long ensued, as the Japanese boy at the place says he went to the room Sunday and was told by the man to go out to go away, because he wanted to sleep.

A letter was found sealed and addressed to Mrs. C. A. Hawkins, 732 South Spring street, Los Angeles. A slip of paper bore upon it the words "Notify Mrs. C. M. Hawkins, 23 East Twenty-second street, New York." Many letters were found from F. P. Delgado of No. 225 West Fifty-seventh street, New York, in one of which Delgado advises Hawkins to brace up and forget his despondent and suicidal tendencies. A telegram, dated November 22, 1899, addressed to Hawkins at Herald Square Hotel, New York, seemed to be from his wife in Los Angeles. It reads:

"Come back and we will try and understand each other better. (Signed.) LOUISE."

Hawkins's letter to his wife is dated June 7, and is written on Occidental Hotel paper. He wrote of his failure to get work, mentioning Shreve & Co. and other firms, and also said he was disappointed in the non-arrival of a man named Thayer. It concluded as follows:

"Sorry am I that your life has been linked together with mine, for I know your future cannot but be saddened by the result of our union. But forget me. I deserve to be forgotten—but before forgetting, forgive. It is a thing I little deserve, yet, forgive me, and pray for me too, as I shall need your prayers. Once more, dear, I embrace you, and entreat you to, if it is possible, remember me for good."

THE NEWS IN THIS CITY.

The young widow of C. A. Hawkins, the San Francisco suicide, was seen last night at the Victoria, No. 733 South Spring street. She was unaware of her husband's death until told of it by a reporter, who had a special dispatch from San Francisco. At first she was completely stunned by the news, staring blankly into vacancy and then giving way to a flood of tears, bordering closely on hysterics. Her sister and brothers soothed her and she struggled hard to control herself, but she could not repress the heart-rending moans: "Oh, why did he do it! What will I do!"

Mrs. Hawkins is an unusually attractive brunette, of about 20 years, and was born in San Francisco. Her husband was 23 years old, and was a graduate of Hobart College, Geneva, N. Y. They were married in this city one year ago, shortly after he left college, the ceremony being performed at St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral by Vicar Charles E. Spalding. Her maiden name was Louise Allen.

Hawkins went to San Francisco one week ago in search of employment. Yesterday morning Mrs. Hawkins received a letter from her husband, written last Thursday, in which he stated that as there seemed to be nothing for him to do in that city he would return to Los Angeles. He seemed to be cheerful and gave no intimation that he thought of taking his own life.

However, on one or two occasions before his marriage, it is stated, he became despondent and attempted to commit suicide, and since his marriage, when particularly low-spirited, he made threats to end his troubles in death. His despondency was caused by disagreements with his mother and other relatives over financial matters. He received his portion of his father's estate, but did not invest it successfully, and it was soon spent. His mother desired him to go into business, but the choice of occupations which he made did not suit him, as he claimed that he was unfitted for it. He wanted his relatives to assist him in other ways, and their refusal to do so preyed upon his mind. This, together with his inability to secure such employment as he was capable of doing, caused him to take his life.

Before Hawkins left Los Angeles the clerk of St. Paul's exerted himself to find a suitable situation for the young man, but was unsuccessful.

Hawkins's relatives in New York are prominent people, and a cousin, Mr. Shaver, of Pueblo, Col., is president of the Hotel Men's Association, and is well known in this city.

BOARD OF HEALTH FIXES IT.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—The Board of Health tonight passed a resolution providing for the termination of the quarantine in twenty days from the publication of the last case to date, provided no new case is discovered in the meanwhile. In the latter contingency the twenty days will commence to run from the next verified case. The last cases reported was June 2.

In reporting to the board on the condition of affairs in Chinatown, Dr. Chalmers said:

"It will require, in my opinion, at least four more days to cleanse Chinatown thoroughly. The fumigator is in operation, and has been passing its disinfectant gasses into the sewers in Chinatown, and we have given the Chinese an idea of sanitation such as they have never had before.

"I wish to say, too, in this connection, that the Chinese have helped us materially, particularly the better class of merchants, who realize the need and the wisdom of acquiescing in what must benefit them and hasten the termination of the quarantine."

Dr. Blunt, State Health Officer of Texas, has notified Dr. Kinyoun, the Federal quarantine officer, that all goods not likely to carry infection and coming from Chinatown in San Francisco would be allowed to pass through the State of Texas. This means that fruit and merchandise of all kinds can be sent East. This will be a great

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—This afternoon Judge W. W. Morrow, in the United States Circuit Court, enlarged the restraining order now in force against the Board of Health by adding a prohibition against excluding physicians employed by the Chinese from attending autopsies held after death on the bodies of their patients. Attorneys representing various Chinese interests applied to have the order enlarged.

The motion is in consequence of the act of Drs. Kellogg, Chalmers and Wilson, employés of the Health Board, who performed an autopsy Saturday on the bodies of an adult and an infant from which they excluded Drs. Pillsbury and Hodghead, who had attended the decedents during their last illness. The case of the infant had been diagnosed by Drs. Pillsbury and Hodghead as peritonitis, and of the adult as heart disease. After cutting up the bodies in secret, the doctors of the Health Board announced that the cases were "suspicious."

Attorney Shortridge declared that the Health Board had committed a contempt of court, and threatened to have them cited to show cause why they should not be punished. In order to prevent a recurrence, and to make no doubt of the extent of the restraining order issued last week they applied to have it enlarged.

COFFINS CAUSE A RIOT.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—Because a Chinese undertaker attempted to bring three coffins into Chinatown tonight, a small riot occured which resulted in the wrecking of the undertaker's place of business.

About 7 o'clock the undertaker had three coffins dumped at the corner of Kearney and Jackson, which is the end of the quarantine lines, intending to have men go from inside the quarantined quarter and bring them to his place of business. The Chinese, 200 strong, armed themselves with clubs and rocks and took up a position near the coffins, threatening anyone who touched them with death, fearing that if the coffins were brought into the quarantine section the "white people" would think that there had been deaths from bubonic plague and would keep them in quarantine longer.

While the proprietor of the undertaking establishment was arguing the point with the mob, 300 more Chinese gathered in front of his place of business and wrecked the windows and doors by throwing stones through them and battering the sashes down with clubs.

A riot call was sent in to the California-street station and Bergt. Whitman with 100 policemen went to the scene of the disturbance and dispersed the mob.

In accordance with a Chinese custom, a sick Chinaman called at the undertaker's yesterday to await death in the "house of tranquility." When the mob attacked the place he changed his mind about dying, and left the place as quickly as possible.

No arrests were made and the coffins were not taken into Chinatown.

PERILS OF BERING SEA.

FEARS FOR ALPHA'S SAFETY.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

SEATTLE, June 11.—Serious fears for the steamer Alpha's safety are expressed at Unalaska and Dutch Harbor. The intrepid captain announced that he would be the first at Nome if he had to haul his vessel on the ice. Consequently those who are still waiting for the ice to go think that there is likelihood of the vessel being caught in the ice pack, which would surely occur, it is said, if the captain tried to push through one of the lanes of clear water which are always found in the Bering Sea floes. These, while at times open as far as the eye can penetrate, are continually closing together, in which case any vessel which is unlucky enough to get caught is crushed like an eggshell.

The steam schooner Albion, which reached Unalaska May 15, while coming up the harbor narrowly escaped destruction on the rocks. A severe storm carried her within 100 yards of the bluffs before her head could be turned to the wind. All steam was put on, but it took the vessel three hours to push out past the perilous bluffs. At one time passengers and crew became panic-stricken and it took the combined attention of the officers to quell the disturbance. Several pistols were used in cowering the affrighted people.

CLEW TO STAGE ROBBER.

SPENT A WEEK AT FRESNO.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]

FRESNO, June 11.—The Democrat says that detectives who have come to this city are working on a clew which seems to indicate that some time between May 15 and May 22, or immediately before the Yosemite stage robbery, the man, whose valise was found on the scene of the robbery, and who is believed to be the robber, was in Fresno. He had with him stamp photographs of himself, taken tallying with those found in the valise, and he left town without paying for his lodging.

He occupied a room at a lodging-house for one week, and was accompanied by a Spanish woman, who came back four or five days after they left to redeem their valises, which had been detained. The woman said she lived in Mariposa county. A separate identification agreeing with this has been made at another lodging-house in this city, where the couple passed one night.

RICE'S SAVINGS COMPANY.

MOVE FOR AN INJUNCTION.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—State Insurance Commissioner A. J. Clunie and Frank H. Gould and E. D. McCabe, State Commissioners of Building and Loan Associations, having requested Atty.-Gen. Ford to enjoin the Tontine Savings Association of St. Paul, Minn., from transacting business in California, quite a number of the people having investments in the concern crowded its offices today. Some decided to withdraw. Others, on assurances made by Manager E. Warner Rice, decided not to withdraw their investments.

"Our association," said Manager Rice, "is not an insurance company of a building and loan association. That is why we have refused to allow Mr. Clunie or Messrs. Gould or McCabe to officially examine our books. But I say most positively that our books are open to the inspection of the public."

NATIVE DAUGHTERS' MEETING.

JACKSON IS ABOUT READY.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

JACKSON, June 11.—Preparations for the Grand Parlor of Native Daughters of the Golden West, which meets here tomorrow, are about completed. This town being the birthplace of the order, the members of Ursula Parlor, No. 1, have made strenuous efforts to make the meeting of the grand parlor an event long to be remembered. The Executive Committee, comprising Miss Emma Boarman, Miss Maggie Wishard, Mrs. Fannie Norman, Mrs. Nellie Ginocchio, Miss Lottie Breese and Mrs. Hettie O'Neil have succeeded in collecting by entertainments and subscriptions a fund amounting to nearly $1500 for the entertainment of visitors. Webb Hall, where the parlor will meet, is tastefully decorated and many business places and private dwellings are decked in bunting in honor of the occasion.

Grand President Mrs. Cora B. Sifford, Past Grand President Mrs. Mary E. Tillman, Senior Past Grand President Mrs. Tina L. Kaap, and a number of delegates arrived last night. Over one hundred came via Ione tonight. They were met at Galt by a committee of the local parlor, consisting of Mrs. Podesta, Mrs. Pontenrose and Miss Lena Francis, with Judge R. C. Rust, Grand President of the Native Sons, as an escort. Every delegate was notified of the provision made for her accommodation, so as to avoid confusion on arrival here. To provide for 300 visitors will tax the town's resources, but under the management of the local Native Daughters, nothing will be left undone to insure their comfort. An open-air concert was given tonight.

OLD ENEMIES MEET.

ONE RECEIVES FATAL WOUNDS.

[A. P. EARLY A.M. REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—Vido Opusich, a fruit packer, shot and fatally wounded John Petrovich, a waiter, last night at the corner of Stockton and Pacific streets. There had been ill feeling between the men for some time and it culminated in the shooting when they came together in a saloon on Pacific street.

Patrolman Connolly, who was present during most of the trouble, said Opusich chased his victim out of the saloon, firing four shots at him. Two shots took effect, both in the head. Opusich says he saw his victim make a move as if to draw a revolver, and that he shot in self-defense. The injured man is not expected to survive more than a few hours.

MRS. CRAVEN WAS ILL.

PERJURY CASE POSTPONED.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—When the case of Mrs. Nettie R. Craven, accused of perjury, was called before Superior Judge Carroll Cook today, a physician's certificate was offered in proof of the fact that the defendant was too ill to appear, and the court set the case for Friday next, announcing that the presence of the doctor at that time would be required to testify as to Mrs. Craven's condition.

The cases of Simpton and Sylva, accused of perjury and subornation of perjury, were called also, and then continued until Saturday, the defense earnestly pleading that it was not yet prepared.

CAVE-IN AT JEROME.

TWO LIVES CRUSHED OUT.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

JEROME (Ariz.,) June 11.—This morning about 1 o'clock there was a serious cave-in on the 500-foot level of the United Verde mine, in which John Gray of Salt Lake City and Jel Jorreno lost their lives. Robert Northers of London was slightly injured, and Janso Melkle, a laborer, had his arm and thigh broken, and received internal injuries likely to prove fatal.

The two men killed did not meet instant death, but were slowly crushed by the settling mass of ore. Their cries for help were piteous, but when the rescue force reached them life was extinct. The accident occured in what was supposed to be the safest place in the mine.

HIGHBINDER'S VICTIM DEAD.

ONE GUY IS UNDER ARREST.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]

SACRAMENTO, June 11.—Lee Ah Hing, a Chinaman who was shot in Chinatown last evening in a highbinder warfare, died this morning in the City Receiving Hospital from the effects of his wounds. A charge of murder will be placed against Fong Ah Guy, who is in jail. Lee Ah Hing said last night that Guy was one of the Chinamen who shot at him. The police say that Fong Ah Guy came here a little over a month ago from San Francisco, and that he was forced to flee from that city on account of some highbinder trouble in that city.

M'GLADE NOT SENTENCED.

APPEALS TO SUPREME COURT.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—The case of Peter McGlade, called before Superior Judge Cook this morning for the pronouncing of sentence, was put over until Saturday next, the defense announcing that an appeal to the Supreme Court was now in course of preparation. McGlade was convicted of forgery. He was an employé of Superintendent of Streets Ambrose, and forged warrants on the city.

CHASED THE CENSUS MAN.

CHINESE FEARED QUARANTINE.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN RAFAEL, June 11.—Edward Watson, a United States census marshal, had an exciting time at the Point San Pedro camps today. There are about 1000 Chinese in the camps, and when Watson began to ask them questions, a great uproar ensued.

Watson did not understand the cause of the uproar. He started to walk up the road toward other houses, when he saw running for him several Chinamen armed with clubs and knives.

Watson turned and ran for his horse, which was tied some distance away, and managed to get out of reach of the angry Chinamen. An interpreter was summoned, and through him it was learned that the Chinese thought Watson had come to place the camp in quarantine. After the matter was explained, the census was taken.

LOUCKS'S DYING WORDS.

IDENTIFIED HIS SLAYER.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

SANTA CRUZ, June 11.—At the murder trial of J. Techara today the defense made a strong fight to rule out G. D. Loucks's dying declaration, but were overruled. Loucks declared that M. Amaya struck him with a club and that Techara told Amaya to "shoot, and shoot to kill."

Loucks identified Techara, and pointed his finger at him, saying, "You told Amaya to shoot to kill." Techara replied, "You are mistaken, Mr. Loucks." The prosecution will close tomorrow.

MME. LEHMANN DEAD.

WAS ONCE A NOTED SINGER.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

SANTA CRUZ, June 11.—Mme. Augusta Lehmann, once a famous singer, is dead in this city, aged 80 years. Half a century ago she was known throughout Europe. For years she was court singer at Vienna. She came to this country with Parepa Rosa, with whom she divided honors on their tour.

After her retirement from the stage, she resided here and gave instructions in music until her health failed.

[LETTER TO MRS. PINKHAM NO. 93,284]

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—For some time I have thought of writing to you to let you know of the great benefit I have received from the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Soon after the birth of my first child, I commenced to have spells with my spine. Every month I grew worse and at last became so bad that I found I was gradually losing my mind.

Mrs. Johnson Saved from Insanity by Mrs. Pinkham

"The doctors treated me for female troubles, but I got no better. One doctor told me that I would be insane. I was advised by a friend to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, and before I had taken all of the first bottle my neighbors noticed the change in me.

"I have now taken five bottles and cannot find words sufficient to praise it. I advise every woman who is suffering from any female weakness to give it a fair trial. I thank you for your good medicine."—MRS. GERTRUDE M. JOHNSON, JONESBORO, TEXAS.

Mrs. Perkins' Letter.

"I had female trouble of all kinds, had three doctors, but only grew worse. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills and used the Sanative Wash, and cannot praise your remedies enough."—MRS. EFFIE PERKINS, PEARL, LA.

WE HAVE HAD SEVERAL LETTERS OF late and quite a few calls asking us if we will form a new oil company and start the stock at 10c. They just want a 10c stock, and won't take anything else. We are not particularly pining for another new company, but if enough folks want to go in on what we consider legitimate lines we shall go ahead. We have a first-class expert, who does nothing outside of our business. Two expert drillers arrived yesterday from Pennsylvania to work for us. We have two first-class standard rigs, and know some good land. The only style of 10c, or any other cent, company we would go into is one in which there is absolutely no promoters' stock and everybody has a chance at the start. If enough folks, other than the ones who have already spoken or written to us, wish to join a company of the kind outlined above, and will write us and say so, we shall see what can be done. INTERNATIONAL INVESTMENTS COMPANY, Henne Bldg., Los Angeles.

UNLESS FOLKS STOP ASKING FOR OUR new handbook, we shall have to request Manager Cartwright to keep those presses going two wee bit longer. The book will have information concerning about 75 oil companies. We shall give the capitalization, State of incorporation, land owned and developments in treasury, names of president and secretary, place of office, and work, if any, being done. All this will be in black letters. Then in another paragraph, in red letters, so that the sentences may not be confused with the official information, we shall have our own comments, favorable or unfavorable, about the company in question. Handbooks usually are made to sell to the companies and brokers, and put everybody on the knack, at so much per pat. Ours is published for our own folks, and we "say right out in meeting" what we would say if they could come and see us in our own offices. INTERNATIONAL INVESTMENTS COMPANY, Henne Bldg. CONFERENCE COMMITTEE.

Seven Members Named by Chairman Slauson.

Council Seems not to Favor "High Jinks" of Citizens.

Chairman Slauson, who presided at the "secret" indignation meeting held in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce last Saturday afternoon, yesterday named the members of the subcommittee authorized at that meeting. This committee, known as the "Conference Committee," consists of the following-named gentlemen: J. O. Koepfli, Charles Silent, J. R. Newberry, J. J. Fay, Jr., A. Haas, Dr. J. H. Davisson and N. B. Blackstone.

A meeting was held yesterday afternoon at Mr. Slauson's office in the Bryson Block. It is stoutly asserted that nothing was done at the meeting except to discuss the situation. It was held behind locked doors, and an attempt made to veil the proceedings in much mystery. The general supposition has been that the "Conference Committee" would go before the Council or the Police Commission and make a demand for something or other. Apparently the conference feature did not work satisfactorily. The Council, it is understood, is firm in the belief that the situation does not warrant the extreme measures that have been proposed. The special committee met yesterday at 2 o'clock. The Council usually convenes at that time, but it was an hour later yesterday. It is probable that some significance attaches to this circumstance.

The members of the City Council had been given to understand that the Conference Committee, so called, was to appear before them at the afternoon session and make a formal demand that something to its liking be done. Just what that something was none of the Councilmen knew or would admit, but it was broadly stated that if it was a demand for the summary dismissal of the present Board of Police Commissioners, the committee would be promptly turned down. There was no mistaking this feeling among the members of the Council, and it was realized that unless the committee had something more to present than that, it had better not make the demand without more cause than the fact that there has been a series of highway robberies in this city. Several of the members of the Council stated in positive terms, using the same argument as had Councilman Toll at that "secret" meeting of Saturday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce, that to dismiss the present Board of Police Commissioners because of the hold-ups would be branding the members of that board as having been directly responsible for the hold-ups, and this they refused to do.

Councilman Toll left the City Hall about the time for the afternoon session of the Council to begin. He did not say where he was going, nor would he admit, when he returned, the purpose of his absence. Other members of the Council were not so cautious, however, and it was stated by more than one of them that Mr. Toll had been sent to tell the members of the Slauson committee that there was little use of their appearing before the Council in the humor the Council was in yesterday. Whether Mr. Toll was really sent out for that purpose or not he would not admit when he returned, but he would not, or did not, deny it. The Council waited for him to return, and it was 4 o'clock before the afternoon session was called to order.

GARMENT WORKERS IDLE.

BUFFALO (N. Y.,) June 11.—Owing to difficulties which have arisen between the Master Tailors' Protective Association and local assemblies, United Garment Workers of America, about one thousand men and girls were idle today. The men claim it is a lockout, ordered to force the union to settle a strike at Samuel Binder's shop, where, it is alleged, union workers were gradually being displaced by non-union workers.

COST OF UNLAWFUL LUXURY.

SALT LAKE (Utah.) June 11.—John C. Graham, found guilty on the 26th ult., of unlawful cohabitation with Mary A. Graham and Sarah Potter, or Graham, appeared before Judge Morrill today for sentence. The judgment of the court was that the defendant pay a fine in the sum of $250, or in lieu thereof, that he be confined in the Salt Lake County Jail for a period of 250 days.

BACON'S RIDICULE.

Hot Shot Directed at Late Events.

Indignation Meeting and Other Movements Toasted.

Peppery Paper Presented Before Los Angeles Historical Society.

The Los Angeles Historical Society met last evening at the residence of C. W. Williamson. The society delved into the bygones to some extent, but the warmest part of its proceedings was President Bacon's caustic review of recent local events. He spared not.

The exercises opened by a vocal solo sung by Mrs. Lillian Williamson, with piano accompaniment by Miss Shearer.

H. D. Barrows read a paper on "The Postmasters of Los Angeles from 1850 to 1900." A postoffice was not established in Los Angeles until November, 1850. The first postmaster was A. Pugh, who serve but a short term. W. T. B. Stanford, the second postmaster, was a prominent citizen, a brother-in-law of Gen. Banning. He was killed in the explosion of the steamer Ada Hancock in Wilmington Bay in 1862. The fourth, J. S. Waite, was a newspaper man, editor of the Weekly Star. J. B. Still was postmaster during the civil war, and barely escaped assassination by a Confederate sympathizer, who fired at him through a board partition. Capt. George Clarke, who succeeded him, was a man of prominence, and followed a variety of occupations. Col. I. R. Dunkleberger, postmaster in 1877, has a brilliant record in the civil war, and was twice wounded. Deputy Postmaster Shoulters and ex-Postmaster H. V. Van Dusen also have war records.

THE OLD DAYS.

J. M. Guinn read a paper entitled "The Secularization of the Missions and the Passing of the Neophyte," in which he said in part: "The Franciscan Missions of California were not intended by the crown of Spain (which fostered and protected them,) to become permanent institutions. At the end of ten years the natives were to be free from the tutelage, and were then to be collected into pueblos. In 1810 Spain passed a law secularizing the missions, but the war of Mexican independence prevented its enforcement. During Mexico's war for independence the mission padres (most of whom were Spanish born) sympathized with Spain. The Mexican authorities feared and distrusted them. This in part gave a pretext for the disestablishment of the missions. Another pretext was found in the land monopoly of the missions. From San Diego to San Francisco Bay the greater part of the fertile land between the coast range and the sea had been monopolized by these missionary establishments. A settler could not obtain a grant of land if the padres of the nearest mission objected. The Mission San Gabriel controlled 1,500,000 acres of fertile land. The Indian population of that mission in the early decades of the century averaged yearly about fifteen hundred. It took 1000 acres to support an Indian—even the smallest papoose of the mission flock.

"The secularization decrees were humane measures. Had the Indians been fitted for self-support by their previous training, their colonization into pueblos would have been a success. But, released from restraint, they became dissolute and sunk to the lowest depths of depravity. Drink and diseases engendered by their vicious habits finally exterminated the race. The vast mission estates were divided into ranchos, and these were granted to actual settlers. In this way the mission domains passed into private hands. The country improved more in wealth and population between 1835 and 1846 than it had in the previous fifty years. The passing of the neophyte began long before the decrees of secularization were enforced. The number of births never equaled the deaths, and in time the missions would have been depopulated, even had there been no disestablishment."

SOME RECENT HISTORY.

Walter R. Bacon, Esq., president of the society, presented a paper on "Current History." Mr. Bacon dissented in part from the view that the best historical papers are those written of a period so far past that the recital is free from bias. He proceeded to discuss local events of recent occurrence, notably the charter convention. On this subject he said:

"For some months back there has been discussion of the advisability of a new charter. In May of this year the Mayor of Los Angeles requested the Chamber of Commerce, Merchants and Manufacturers' Association, Board of Trade, City Board of Education, the Bar Association, and certain socialistic societies to select representatives, who in turn would meet and select fifteen people to be candiates as freeholders for the making of a new charter, and strange to say, all these societies, flattered by the distinction conferred on them by the Mayor's invitation, and blind to the schemings of political historians of all former times, in solemn conclaves selected their quotas of delegates, and the delegates, with the same blindness and utterly unappreciative of the humor of the situation, as solemnly accepted their appointments and have held two sessions of a nominating convention. At the first session it was agreed that each class represented (seven classes in all) should select two freeholders each, and that the whole convention should then select one at large all to be announced at a later meeting.

"The ridiculous side of the proceeding must have touched some one as a number of the organizations digressed enough from the programme to join their forces and make common selection of the freeholders allotted to their various orders, but suffered a relapse into their former obtuseness at the next meeting of the whole convention, and refused to disclose the names of those selected until the other orders had made their selection, on the ground that it might be unfair to the appointees and premature to make such announcement. The student of history sees in this a recurrence of the old idea that with some certain class or order of citizens is deposited the divine right to govern themselves and the rest of the community."

THAT INDIGNATION MEETING.

The speaker then turned his attention to the indignation meeting of citizens held at the Chamber of Commerce Saturday afternoon, and treated it in this wise: "These gentlemen, (those who met secretly) doubtless in arguing with their own consciences and good judgment, which certainly must have been in open rebellion at the idea, doubtless admitted that they had no more business to ask a secret session of the Council with themselves than they would have to ask the State Legislature or the National Congress for a similar session, and admitted further that the star chamber was a thing of the past, not to be countenanced by any body of people able to read English history, but with the same blind fatuity of all men, patriots or otherwise, anxious for power or solicitous of notoriety for themselves, did as such men have always done, took advantage of the public clamor for a redress of bad conditions and arrogated to themselves the authority of cajoling or coercing the properly constituted authorities into adopting their method for the extinction of the evil. The whole tendency of these proceedings is bad, it is a reversion to methods that the English-speaking peoples, in fact all Teutonic peoples, have been fighting for a thousand years, many of us have fondly thought and hoped that the whole theory and system had been festering for a hundred years in the political ash heap.

"I do not treat the matter in so serious a way as to fear anything from the conditions of which I speak. I haven't the remotest idea that these few amiable gentlemen will subvert the institutions of which we are so proud, but it is well to notice such things when they are so small that exposure to the light will wither them, and when the pretense of superiority is so apparent that a single shaft of ridicule will kill. I don't think the disease will gain, become epidemic. In fact I think it is sporadic and well localized, for I don't believe any community of a hundred thousand people, in the United States, except Los Angeles, would permit any set of twenty mutually-admiring men to appoint themselves as guardians of the property, conservators of the peace, and protectors of the lives of all the other citizens, as we seem to be doing, without protest."

THE WATER QUESTION.

Mr. Bacon discussed the water question in Los Angeles along the same lines, holding up to ridicule the Committee on Arbitration. He said:

"The city has done all it can and as fast as it could, and if let alone will win the fight and eventually own its waterworks, but when nobody wants any new obstacles, and when it is well known that public sentiment is overwhelmingly in favor of public ownership, certain eminent gentlemen, taking advantage of the public anxiety and interest in the question, after declaring themselves in favor of municipal ownership, proceed to appoint, or have themselves appointed, an honorable committee to arbitrate the matter of difference between the city and the water company. It would be hard for them to make a statement of just what they intend to do when, as a matter of fact, they know there is nothing they can do or are empowered to do. They can't arbitrate the value of the property, as that has already been done. They would hardly claim to be able to induce the water company to abate anything of its claims, as they have declared in their statements to the Council, and by the bringing of numerous vexatious and groundless lawsuits that they will fight to the end to maintain their position, so that it is fair to presume that all these self-constituted champions of the rights of the people can do is to induce the Council to compromise its rights and give away something of the advantage so far gained by it in the struggle. Of course this to an unprejudiced observer don't seem much of a boon to the people, but it gives opportunity for the activities of these gentlemen and makes opportunities for the great body of the people to cultivate the virtue of patience.

"No one denies the right of any individual to be heard in the conduct of his government; in fact, one of the greatest struggles of our race was for the right of petition. But the bare statement of the case is sufficient to show that when any number of men presume without invitation from the body of the people to hold secret sessions with the City Council to consult on questions of governmental policy, or create a machine of which they are the sole conservators for the purpose of formulating a city charter, or assume without election to arbitrate with the City Council the important question of the ownership of city water works, they have overstepped the bounds of propriety, arrogated to themselves rights they do not possess, and have thus made themselves ridiculous.

"I would not be quoted as underestimating the value to this community of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association or the Chamber of Commerce. They have each done an enormous amount of good in the community, and will continue to do so, as long as they keep within their separate legitimate spheres of action, but I submit that until by the Constitution of the State or by a city charter, they are constituted a coördinate branch of the city government that good sense and propriety would dictate that they refrain from exercising, in any guise, the function of government. For them, however, there may be some excuse. They have been successful business men, and have created successful and powerful organizations, and with that easy assumption of superiority that comes with success, may possibly, as individuals, be excused for their modest assumption of the governing power. But with the Bar Association the situation is different. Their first lesson in the law teaches them the source of power is in the people, and that by the people to its representatives called the government, the division of the powers of government into the legislative, judicial and executive, and the prohibition of each coördinate branch from interference with each other branch. The law is the most learned able of the professions; it has to do with the liberty and property of the people, and has done more than any other one force for their preservation, so that for the Bar Association there is no excuse."

The society adjourned to the first Monday in September.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

CONTRACT FOR NEW SCHOOL AT HEN LEE LAST NIGHT.

As the end of the present school year draws to a close, there is much to be considered by the Board of Education. At its meeting last evening, more than the usual amount of small business was transacted; but outside of the re-election of officers for the ensuing year, and the acceptance of a bid for the erection of the annex to the High School, all matters of importance were avoided.

In reference to the annex, the secretary reported that seven bids had been received, and that the figures ranged from $18,000 to $24,000. The former bid was made by Murphy & McLennon, and, being the lowest, it was accepted. The estimate was made on a plaster exterior finish.

On the recommendation of the Finance Committee the board will petition the Council to set aside from the money now in the school fund, $14,000 to be designated as the "school building fund," to be used in completing the completion of the High School annex.

Several meetings ago the board accepted plans, but failed to fix the compensation that the architect should receive. Several were in favor of giving the man with the artistic ideas 3 per cent. of contract price for plans, specifications and his supervising, but it was stated that he wanted 5 per cent. Not having had an understanding before the drawing was accepted it was decided to call a special meeting of the board for Wednesday afternoon at 4:30, at which time this, and other matters, will be settled.

The regulations of the board provide that the election of officers, with the exception of the superintendent, will be held the first meeting in June. In compliance with such requirement the following were reelected for the ensuing year, which begins July 1:

Deputy Superintendent of Schools, C. L. Ennis; superintendent of buildings and janitors, C. S. Hogan; assistant superintendent of buildings and janitors, C. A. Charlton; supply clerk, F. S. Thomas; superintendent of school's clerk, Miss Grace Kingsley; book-keeper, Miss Bell T. Boyton; secretary of board, N. B. Averill.

OTHER BUSINESS.

Among the matters that will be considered by the board at the adjourned meeting Wednesday, will be a report from the Purchasing Committee recommending that the school desks necessary for the furnishing the new High School annex be purchased during the present month, under the present contract with C. F. Weber & Co. As prices have advanced since this contract was made, it is quite possible that the firm will object to the purchase of desks before the board is ready to use the same.

The report of the Teachers Committee recommended that the resignations of Leslie E. Lynn, Julia W. Gelette, Emma T. Bacon and Laura Duncan be accepted, to take effect June 30.

On the recommendation of the same committee Frances Kingsley, Charlotte Teale and Mrs. Christina J. Mosher were elected substitute teachers in the primary and grammar grades.

Bills in the sum of $1313.42 were ordered paid.

DE LANNE'S RESIGNATION.

WAS WITHDRAWN AT REQUEST OF GEN. ANDRE.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]

PARIS, June 11.—[By Atlantic Cable.] It is officially announced that Gen. De Lanne, chief of staff of the Ministry of War, has tendered his resignation, but at the request of Gen. André he withdrew it, and will retain the direction of the general staff.

Semi-officially it is explained that several changes in the personnel of the War Office were interpreted by Gen. De Lanne as implying censure upon him, and he therefore resigned, but on Gen. André assuring him that he retained the confidence of the government, Gen. De Lanne canceled his resignation.

The report that Gen. Gamont, military Governor of Paris, intends to resign, is understood to be quite unfounded.

TIME FOR WEAKNESS AND FOOLISHNESS TO CEASE.

It is evident, and has been evident for long time past, that the affairs of the Police Department of this city are in a very unsatisfactory condition. There has been a plentiful lack of harmony all along the line, and this has naturally led to impairment of the efficiency of the department, as is bound to be the case under all similar circumstances.

There has been altogether too much of the dogmatic putting forward of individual preferences, opinions, and prejudices in the management of the Police Department, and too little regard for the decency and discipline of the force—a consideration which should at all times and under all circumstances be paramount in the minds and public actions of those charged with the grave responsibility of managing this important branch of the municipal system.

It is time for all this nonsense to cease. It is time for every person connected directly or remotely with the management of the Police Department—Mayor, Councilmen, Police Commissioners, and all—to put aside all personal, political, or other extraneous considerations, and unite in an effort to place the department upon the most efficient possible basis, without reference to the "status," either private, party or official, of this or that individual, or to the particular "pull" that this or that man may have, in one direction or another.

The Times occupies the same attitude in this matter that it has occupied heretofore—holding the efficiency, the discipline, and the morale of the department to be the question of supreme importance, quite irrespective of individual interests, opinions, and aspirations. It opposed the dismissal of Chief Glass, for the reason that he had demonstrated by years of faithful and efficient service. It opposed the summary removal of the Police Commission by the Council; also the reinstatement of some of the members, and the appointment of certain men who are still members of the commission. We believed, and still believe, that to sustain back of these actions were unworthy, and that the whole proceeding tended to weaken the efficiency of the department, to encourage insubordination, and indirectly to bring about the state of affairs with which we are today confronted and cursed. Though principally opposing the selection of a new man for the department, we have favored the giving of a fair chance to the present Chief, and advocate the policy of conferring upon him greater power and more latitude in the command of the men under him, who are there to obey, not to choose.

The recent decision of the City Attorney, to the effect that a police officer may be dismissed without the necessity of an extensive manipulation of red tape, is a closely sound in principle. The power that appoints should also hold the power of dismissal, for disciplinary and other reasons that are obvious. It was never intended by the legislative authority that a policeman should have a tenure of office, save during good behavior. The appointing power should neither be a political nor a personal "pull." A man's highest and strongest recommendation for appointment should be his qualifications for the work to be performed, and of these qualifications the Chief of Police is the best judge. This fact should be kept steadily in view at all times.

To repeat, one thing that is obviously needed is the concentration of larger authority in the hands of the Chief of Police. He is the direct, active executive head of the Police Department. He should be Chief in fact as well as in name. He should be given by the Police Commission, acting under the Council, the widest discretion in the management of the men under him—including, substantially, the power of appointment and dismissal in all ordinary cases—and should be held to a strict accountability for his exercise of the powers thus reposed in him. He should, in brief, be made an executive officer in the true sense, with large discretionary powers, but, as already stated, held answerable to the city government for the businesslike and efficient conduct of his department. Under no circumstances should the Chief be made the creature of politicians, nor should the men under his authority be permitted to mix in politics, either party or personal, or be made answerable directly to any other authority than that of the Chief. It should be a punishable offense for an officer to be caught "canoodlating" with either a commissioner or a Councilman. It will be impossible to maintain proper discipline in the department if men in subordinate positions are permitted to take orders from individual Councilmen, individual Police Commissioners, or individual city officials, of whatever grade, other than the single executive head of the department.

The Times has little faith in the successful suppression of the lawlessness prevailing in this city, so long as present conditions prevail in the management of the Police Department. Some radical changes of methods—and of men also—must be made before the police service of the city can be placed upon a basis of thorough efficiency. Most essential of all, there must be a united effort on the part of all concerned to promote the good of the service in every possible way, irrespective of merely personal opinions, prejudices, or interests.

There are other legal ways of apprehending and punishing highwaymen, burglars, and lawbreakers generally, than through the Police Department, although the regularly-constituted police force is the power that should properly perform that work, and in so doing, discharge its plain duty. If it shall become necessary to resort to other known methods of apprehending and punishing men guilty of crime, as an alternative of permitting them to go unpunished, there are citizens of Los Angeles, in plenty, who know how to set about the performance of the task, however distasteful it may be, and their work will be thorough, once it has been entered upon. But the result, if this alternative should arise, will be a lasting disgrace to the Council, the Police Commission and the Police Department. A continuance of the existing epidemic of lawlessness, crime and terrorism will inevitably result in the overthrow, sooner or later, of all those branches of the city government through a popular uprising of outraged and indignant citizens.

Then let the responsible authorities, one and all, "brace up," rise to their duty and apply the heroic remedy before it is too late!

NOT A PARALLEL CASE.

A correspondent of the Associated Press, writing from Manila under date of May 15, takes an extremely pessimistic view of the situation in the Philippines. He declares that "a secret organization, amounting almost to a government," exists among the native population in Luzon and most of the other islands of the archipelago, and that the control of this underground organization is in the hands of a junta, whose headquarters are in Manila. According to this correspondent, the machinations of this secret organization are conducted so tactfully that the American authorities "are unable to trace its roots," although it levies and collects taxes, giving receipts for the same, and in numerous other ways handicaps and harasses the American officials in their administration of affairs in the islands.

The secret organization to which the correspondent refers may or may not have an actual existence. His communication bears internal evidence of preconceptions, more or less pronounced, against American control of the Philippines. He refers several times to "the conquest of the islands," specifically or inferentially, and takes altogether about as discouraging a view of the situation as is possible; a view, in point of fact, so different from that indicated in official reports from Maj.-Gen. E. S. Otis, and in dispatches from other officers of the army who are in a position which gives weight to their utterances, that in reading the correspondent's dissertation one is almost forced to conclude that it was manufactured for use, expressly, in the political campaign which is pending in the United States. If the communication is disinterested and authentic, it is most unfortunate in bearing the earmarks of a political mare's-nest factory.

This Manila correspondent declares, among other things, that "the policy of the insurgent machine is to repeat the Cuban revolution in the Philippines; to discourage conquest by so devastating the islands and keeping them in such a state of war that they will be useless to the conquerors." He further says that "in this sort of struggle for the mastery of the people the insurgents hold the highest cards," and that most of the American officers "think the thorough conquest of the islands along present lines must be a slow work of years, unless the government should adopt methods resembling those by which England crushed the great Indian mutiny. Neither alternative," he adds, "pleases them"—the American officers.

The attempt to make it appear that the government of the United States stands in the same relation toward the inhabitants of the Philippines as that in which the Kingdom of Spain stood toward the Cuban revolutionists, is far-fetched, disingenuous, and in fact utterly absurd. The Cuban revolution was brought about by governmental abuses on the part of Spain, extending over centuries of time; by unreasonable extortions, by unbearable tyranny, by misgovernment in every conceivable form. The Cubans rose against their oppressors for good cause. They had suffered all that human nature could endure, and their rebellion against the sovereignty of Spain was the last desperate protest of outraged manhood against a system of despotism which made death preferable to its continuance.

The situation in the Philippines in no sense furnishes a parallel to the situation in Cuba prior to the American intervention. First and foremost, the inhabitants of the Philippines have been delivered, through American intervention, from the despotic rule of Spain—a despotism under which their necks had been bent for four hundred years. It is idle, as it is false, to say that the substitution of American for Spanish sovereignty amounts to only "a change of masters" for the Filipinos. There is no intelligent American who does not know that neither the people nor the government of the United States would consent that the Filipinos should be wronged, oppressed, or in any sense "enslaved" under the sovereign power which is symbolized in the Stars and Stripes. If the Filipinos are pursuing the tactics of Cuban insurgents under the impression that they are opposing oppression, they are laboring under a vital and most serious mistake.

We are in the Philippines to give freedom to the people, not to deprive them of it. We are there, not because we sought the responsibility which our presence implies and imposes, but because these responsibilities have been thrust upon us in a manner which made avoidance impossible. Inasmuch as we are in the islands, and have been forced to become responsible for their present and for some part of their future, it is incumbent upon us, as a great and free and puissant nation, to discharge these obligations with becoming dignity, patience, moderation, and thoroughness. This we shall certainly do at all hazards and at whatsoever cost, notwithstanding the opposition of enemies abroad, and the more pusillanimous opposition of traitors at home.

The insinuation, from whatever source it emanates, that we are engaged in a war of conquest in the Philippines, is without foundation. The operations of our arms are in the interests of peace, not of war. Our forces are striving to restore order, to establish respect for the rights of life and property, not to deprive any Filipino of these rights. As we are a free people, every person under our flag must be free. The misguided insurgents who are resisting our authority in the islands are thereby depriving themselves, to the extent that their resistance is successful, of the blessings of freedom. The mission of Americans in the Philippines is to extend these blessings to the Filipinos as fast and as completely as they will permit us to do so. We have already established local self-government, far in advance of the capacity of these people to appreciate its benefits or to exercise its functions. If the senseless rebellion of the Tagalogs (urged on by traitorous Americans) had not prevented, the Philippine Islands would now be in the full exercise and enjoyment of autonomous government, with larger freedom than the inhabitants of these islands have ever known or dreamed of in the past.

We have not oppressed, nor do we intend to oppress these people in any way. We have practiced no extortion toward them, nor do we intend to do so. We have taken from them no political nor personal rights which they have ever enjoyed, nor have we any intention of thus despoiling them. We have respected and shall continue to respect their property rights, their religious beliefs, and all their prerogatives as members of the great human family. Our chief (and in the last analysis our only) aim and purpose is to establish—or, rather, to aid them in establishing for themselves—a stable, a liberal, and a just form of government, which shall insure to them and their posterity the inestimable boon of liberty which we enjoy, and which is the bed rock and the eternal foundation of our own system of government—the strongest and the best government on earth. If this be the spirit of oppression or of conquest, let our enemies make the most of it.

Using for a collection-box, the Stars and Stripes, lowered and held by the four corners like an army blanket, does not make a seemly exhibition, even when done under the pretext that the performance is in the interest of the Salvation Army's good work. The act borders on desecration, and the guilty persons ought to know it.

The Playhouses.

MOROSCO'S BURBANK THEATER.

A strong drama, well presented—such is "Men and Women," which the Frawley Company is playing at the Burbank this week. A synopsis of the play appeared in Sunday's issue of The Times, and the story need not be here repeated. It is properly styled a "drama of human interest," for the interest is sustained with much skill and effectiveness throughout the four acts. Although the dramatic telling of the story at times trenches upon the melodramatic, it strikes many true chords of human emotion; while the tenser scenes are deftly relieved and accentuated by touches of bright and breezy comedy, thus mingling laughter and tears, and adding zest to both.

It may be said of the dramatic story as a whole that it is improbable; that its effects and inferences and motives and deductions are often rather far-fetched. But this may be said of almost any play—not excepting, even, the glorious creations of Shakespeare, the master dramatist. Much must be taken for granted in the drama, as in all literature of the imagination. If we insist too strenuously upon literalism we degrade the drama from the realm of creative art into the region of the dull and the commonplace.

A word should be said—and here is as good a place as any to say it—in commendation of the excellent manner in which Mr. Frawley and the Burbank management have staged this play. The scenery and general furnishing of the several acts leave little to be desired or criticised. The success of the effects produced depends in no small degree upon the stage accessories, and these, in the current production, as in other plays presented by the Frawleys, are so complete in ensemble, so elaborate in matters of detail, that one can easily, by a slight effort of the imagination, persuade himself that the scenes he is witnessing are a transcript from real life, and not the fanciful pictures of the mimic stage. Too many managers neglect that very important adjunct of dramatic presentation, the stage furniture.

"Men and Women" brings out the full strength of the Frawley Company. There are many dramatis personæ, representing a wide range of individual characteristics. Almost without exception these characters are strongly and effectively portrayed by the several members of Mr. Frawley's excellent company. Where the excellence of the dramatic work is so uniform, special commendation of the work of individual players seems almost superfluous, not to say invidious. The work of Harrington Reynolds, however, as William Prescott, is exceptionally strong, sincere and earnest. Mr. Reynolds has in his time played many parts," good bad, or indifferent. This is one of his best, and his work in it entitles him to unreserved commendation.

Francis Byrne does excellent work as Edward Seabury. Wallace Shaw has a strong part in the eccentric character of Mr. Pendleton, and he makes the most of it, scoring a genuine hit. Frank Mathews is cast as usual, and decidedly unsatisfactorily as Calvin Steadman. H. S. Duffield presents a consistent and well-defined character portrayal as Stephen Rodman. J. R. Amory is delightfully droll and amusing in the role of Col. Zachary T. Kip.

Miss Wakeman gives a realistic and altogether excellent interpretation of the role of Agnes Rodman. There are tears in Miss Wakeman's voice in the pathetic scenes, and her smile in the lighter moments is most winsome. Her work throughout is pervaded by artistic feeling and conscientious endeavor. Mary Van Buren is charming in the part of Mrs. Kate Delafield, a character, however, which is rather negative in its coloring and limited in its scope. Phœa McAllister (needless to say) does artistic work as Mrs. Jane Prescott. Minnette Barrett is unexpectedly clever as Margery Knox, and Pearl Landers is "cute" and fetching as Dora Prescott. The other roles are sustained in a creditable manner, almost without exception. The play is an absorbing one, and its excellent presentation should fill the theater at each performance.

All the week. Matinee Saturday.

THE ORPHEUM. The bill for this week is replete with good things. Miss Etta Butler, the much-lauded California girl who has won unstinted praise in the East, added to her laureis. Her imitations are superb. Fougere, the Frenchwoman who is yet remembered by local play-goers, walked the local vaudeville boards again last night. Lengthwise clever Miss Butler portrayed the Parisian person with all her mannerisms of voice and gesture. Olga Nethersole as "Sapho;" Mrs. Fiske as "Becky Sharp;" Anna Held, Edna May, and innumerable other great artists, were truly pictured by this new great artist of vaudeville. Miss Butler received many attentions in the way of flowers from local admirers.

Ezra Kendall has talked and laughed his way into Los Angeles hearts. His reception this week is almost an ovation. A brand-new stock of stories are told. New songs are sung. Kendall's tales are all given a local setting, and consequently carry well. He is certainly a most original monologist.

The Wilson family of colored performers open the bill. The two pickaninnies are as popular as ever. Louise Gunning sings more Scotchesongs and is as cordially received as last week. Sager Midgley, Jr. and Gertie Carlisle are newcomers, doing a turn entitled "After School." Midgley makes up as a foolish country boy and carries the part to perfection. His facial expressions alone are worth the price of admission. Mlle. Bartho, the toe dancer, is held over.

Among the new performers are the Magnani family. Four men appear in a barber-shop scene. Music is brought from everything in sight. The barber-poles are gigantic horns; the chairs are big accordions; and there is music, or at least noise, in everything.

Vandy, an unusually clever juggler, closes the bill. He made his first appearance last evening, and did the rather remarkable feat of keeping the audience seated until the curtain was rung down.

INDEPENDENCE CUBA'S RUIN.

SOME NATIVES SAY WE ARE GOING AHEAD TOO FAST.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

HAVANA, June 11.—[By West Indian Cable.] Of late Gov.-Gen. Wood has had many callers, among them lawyers, bankers, merchants, and even two members of the former Cabinet, who have taken the position that the United States government is going ahead too fast in the direction of granting independence to Cuba.

Those who take this ground assign it as the reason for their decision not to join in the coming elections. They point out that there is not a single candidate in the island who is not a professional politician, and they argue that to turn Cuba over to men of this class would mean her absolute ruin.

NEW GOVERNOR ACTS

MacArthur Gives Bureau Chiefs Work to Do.

Peaceful Conquest of the Island of Bohol.

Habini Near Death—Ice-plant Trouble. Rebel Financial Statement.

[A. P. EARLY A.M. REPORT.]

MANILA, May 15.—[Associated Press Correspondence, wired from Chicago June 10.] Gen. MacArthur, during the few days he has sat in the Governor-General's chair, has already demonstrated that he believes in letting the chiefs of bureaus do their share of work. He has handed over to the staff officers of the department many matters which have formerly been considered in the Governor-General's office, giving them discretion in the settlement of details and only holding them responsible for results. One of his first official acts was to place the issuance of passes, such as permits to go through the lines or to be on the streets of Manila after 10 o'clock, in the hands of the provost marshal. During the past ten months Gen. Otis's aide, Lieut. Stanley, had signed 43,000 of these permits, and a large proportion of the applications had been personally considered by Gen. Otis.

Another order which met with general approval was the appointment of Lieut.-Col. E. H. Crowder to be secretary to the military governor, with powers which make the office one of importance second only to that of the Governor in civil affairs. Among the branches of the public business which will come under Col. Crowder's supervision are the judiciary, customs, revenue, postal and telegraph, treasury, auditors, municipal governments, schools, public works, claims, prisons, patents. Col. Crowder was more closely associated with Gen. Otis in the civil branch of the last administration than any other officer, and Gen. Otis gave great weight to his opinions. Before the organization of the Supreme Court and the system of Filipino judiciary, Col. Crowder was judge-advocate of the corps. As a justice of the Supreme Court he has done much to instill the spirit of the American judiciary into that body, which was not lacking in talent, but might have failed in other important respects but for such inspiration. At the same time he has served on the board of claims, was a member of the committee which devised the present system of municipal governments, and helped to arrange the recent revision of Spanish criminal procedure.

Maj. H. C. Hale, with three companies of the Forty-fourth Infantry, has become potentate of the Island of Bohol by peaceful conquest. Bohol is a third as large as the neighboring island of Panay, but had no armed insurgents. It had, however, a very complete and efficient little republic of its own, which formed a part of the revolutionary government. When the troops landed at the principal town, a body of local officials appeared and handed to their new ruler a document which was at first supposed to be an address of welcome. The paper set forth that the Senate and Congress of Bohol had held a joint session, declaring that the Americans were coming; that the inhabitants could not offer allegiance to the United States because that was forbidden by "the Honorable Emilio Aguinaldo, President of the Filipino republic and the lawful head of the state;" that Maj. Hale should secure first Aguinaldo's permission, then the Boholenos would agree to the occupation. But, the address continued, the islanders were unarmed, and in view of their poverty resulting from long blockade, could not be expected to attempt resistance. Therefore the President and Congress of the Republic of Bohol resolved, first, to avoid anything which might be viewed as provocation; second, to allow the commander of the United States military expedition to carry out his orders without interference; third, to carry on the native civil government with the laws which were received from the Filipino republic, and do everything necessary for the interests of law and order, peace and harmony.

Maj. Hale could do nothing less than meet so conciliatory a spirit half way. He installed the insurgent officials as servants of the United States with all their paraphernalia of office, but to their great grief felt compelled to insist upon the removal from the public building of its principal ornament, a big painting of Aguinaldo. He has begun many public improvements, started schools and ew roads, but the Boholenos remain true to their first love. They keep the Filipino flag flying in all the villages, and only lower it when a company of American soldiers comes along. Then they hasten to swing out the Stars and Stripes as an evidence of good faith.

Apolinario Mabini, the premier of Aguinaldo's cabinet, who is not only the most able among the leaders of the insurrection, but almost the only one whose honesty has never been questioned, has probably finished his career. His friends believe that he is dying. Mabini remains in an American prison in Manila because he has nowhere else to go. Before the revolution he was a wealthy man, as riches are rated in the Philippines, but all his money was invested in the cause of "independencia." Recently Gen. Otis offered to release him from the prison in the walled city where he has been housed comfortably since his arrival in Manila, on condition that he would not take advantage of his liberty to incite trouble.

"But I have not changed my convictions," said Mabini.

The general explained that that was not required. Then Mabini said that he was entirely destitute, and preferred to remain in prison. Afterward when his health was plainly failing, Gen. Otis offered him a carriage for a daily drive, Mabini refused it, replying that "I cannot accept favors from the Americans."

Mabini is a paralytic, although a young man. The strain of his flight with Aguinaldo from Tarlac was a severe one, and now he cannot even rise from his chair without help. Those who know him predict that he will last but a few months. He remaths extremely loyal to his dreams of an independent republic for the Filipinos, but more practical men like Buencamino scoff at him as an idealist who cannot accept conditions.

The Manila newspapers are printing much about the troubles incident to building the great government ice plant and cold storage warehouse, which has been under way several months without remarkable progress. The architects of the building, Edward Barrath of Chicago, and Frank L. Strong, formerly an engineer of the navy, were sent to Manila by the Quartermaster-General to act as supervising architect and consulting engineer. Gen. Otis detailed Maj. Roudies of the army to have charge of the work. There was constant friction between the major and the civilian engineers. Finally Mr. Barrath tendered his resignation. Maj. Roudies returned it with the statement that the resignation was not accepted, but that Mr. Barrath was discharged by him. He also discharged Mr. Strong. These gentlemen appealed to Gen. Otis, who declined to consider the question. They have returned to the United States to lay the matter before the War Department, claiming that the Manila authorities, especially Maj. Roudies, had no authority to discharge them.

The American workmen employed on the building are protesting because they are compelled to work ten hours a day in a tropical country. The local papers are protesting because the cost of the building, $500,000, is charged to the revenues of the islands. They argue that it should be paid for by the United States because it is to be used solely for the storage of army supplies.

REBEL FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

HOW OFFICIALS FOOL PEOPLE.

[A. P. EARLY A.M. REPORT.]

MANILA, May 15.—[Associated Press Correspondence, wired from Chicago June 10.]—To Filipinos are addicted to the preservation of their records, no matter how unimportant. Down in Albay province our troops recently found the yearly financial statement of the rebel government. While it is thought its figures are untrue, it is interesting as an example of how the rebels do business and maintain their prestige among their people. In the balance sheet for 1899-1900 the insurgent minister of finance states that during the year 1899-97 the expenses of the Spanish government in administering affairs amounted to $17,474,020, Mexican, but, thanks to the capacity of the revolutionary officers, the total expenditures of the insurgent government for last year only amounted to $6,848,407. All this economy was effected while the Manila customhouse, a most lucrative source of income, was in the hands of the Americans. It was promised that as soon as the rebels gained possession of Manila, which would be in a few weeks, they could manifestly reduce the rate of taxation. In the meantime money was needed, and it was incumbent on all good patriots to pay all the tax collectors asked of them.

With a few words describing Aguinaldo's glory and invincerability, and the good time coming to everybody when the Americans were finally driven from the islands, the minister of finance accounts for his income as follows: Income (all in Mexican currency)—Ordinary indirect taxes, $483,-050; ordinary direct taxes, $1,016,797; special taxes, $945,000; extraordinary contributions, $4,000,000; total, $6,248,407.

The item of "extraordinary contributions" probably covers the multitude of forced payments not included in the other sources of income.

The expenditures are accounted for as follows: General obligations $321,-693; foreign obligations $80,000; Department of the Interior, $303,856; war and navy, $4,597,654.25; law and order, $264,250; public instruction, $35,468; public works, $301,988; agriculture, industry and commerce, $21,068; total, $6,344,-729.25.

The statement shows a deficit of some $500,000.

The insurgent government undoubtedly handled considerable money last year, but whether they collected $6,000,-000 Mexican is not known to outsiders. Their expenses have been especially heavy in the matter of arms. Filipinos and others have made them pay exorbitant prices for everything.

Two of their generals, Pana and Lutbanare, are said to have large accounts in the Hongkong banks. According to this annual report, the yearly pay of a lieutenant-general is $7720; a general commanding a division, $600; a brigadier-general gets $540; a colonel, $480; a lieutenant-colonel, $420; a major is allotted $360; a captain draws $300; a first lieutenant $240 and a second lieutenant $180. The wages of a sergeant are $72 a year, a corporal gets $60, and the man with the gun is allowed $42 for twelve months' service to his country. The balance sheet further makes provision for 22,000 soldiers, 8000 of whom are sergeants and 1500 corporals, and the cost of keeping them in provisions for one year is put down at $314,900 Mexican currency.

TO CATCH FILIBUSTERS.

OFFICERS ARE SENT TO CHINA.

[A. P. EARLY A.M. REPORT.]

NEW YORK, June 11.—A special to the Herald from Washington says it is the understanding of the War Department that Maj.-Gen. MacArthur has sent officers of the army to various points in China under instructions to learn of the fitting out of filibustering expeditions.

The information will at once be communicated to the naval authorities, who will take measures for the capture of expeditions. In addition to looking out for the expeditions it is expected that the officers in China will report upon the situation so as to keep the authorities advised of the feeling among the Chinese.

THE NEW HAMLET.

(Messenger.) My Lord,
I bear a message from the rabble!
(De Bryan.) Speak!
What think they of my pet insanity,
The 16 unto 1?
(Messenger.) Alas, My Lord,
They swear they may not stomach it!
And more—
They bid thee drop it with the same swift speed
As 'twere a hot potato! Else away
They pull their freight to join M'Kinley! (Exit.)
(De Bryan.) Ah!
(Business of clutching heart.)
To shriek, or not to shriek—that is the question.
Whether 'tis best to walk the easy paths
Of common sense, or, on my poor jackass,
Shriek "Silver! Silver!" and at one mad leap
Plunge out and down and end my fool career
By one dull, sick'ning thud!
Alas, poor William!
Small choice hast thou. Before thee looma the shield
Of Terrible M'Kinley; and behind
The pit of thine own digging!
Ho, without!
Bring forth the flagons; and these boding thoughts
I'll bury deep; and wet my burning nose
In that old comforter of Democrats,
The Bourbon Jesse Moore!
(Quaffs. Smiles. Takes up same old hat. Exit talking.)

[Chicago Tribune:] "Tommy," exclaimed Mrs Tucker, "where have you been all evening?"

"Been at Barney Hogan's wake," answered Tommy.

"Oh, how shocking! You bad boy! When did he die?"

"He didn't die. He was out walking in his sleep."

NOT TAXABLE PROPERTY.

DECISION ON ASSOCIATED PRESS FRANCHISES.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

DENVER, June 11.—The State Court of Appeals today decided that a membership in or a contract with the Associated Press, is not a "property" which can be taxed. The suit was brought by the Rocky Mountain News on behalf of the papers in the city, using the service to prevent the assessment of the Associated Press franchise at $5,000. The decision of the lower court that it was not a taxable property is affirmed.

TALE OF MINERAL WEALTH.

Remarkable Find of Copper Ore Reported in Arizona.

Los Angeles Man Tells of the Vein and the District.

A remarkable tale of mineral wealth in Arizona was brought to Los Angeles yesterday by A. G. Schwertha, an Angeleño who has large mining interests in the Dragoon Mountain and Dos Cabezas mining districts, in the southeastern part of the Territory. He states that in the Campbell claims in the Dragoons, about eight miles from the line of the Southern Pacific, a body of red oxide copper ore has been discovered seventeen feet in width, between well-defined walls. Not only is the size of the vein remarkable, but he avers that assays conservatively taken across the face of the ledge give average values of 47 per cent. copper. The ore is the freest of free smelting. The vein shows all signs of permanence, though it has been explored only to a depth of twenty feet. Campbell has three claims along the ore body. The property is not a new one, by any means. It was worked for carbonate ores as far back as 1880. A smelter was run on its ores, till the original carbonate vein was exhausted.

Mr. Schwertha believes the Dragoon Mountain district among the richest in Arizona. "It is on a line with the Bisbee mines in a continuation of the same mineralized belt," he explained. Most of the ore is a copper carbonate, bearing in some claims a percentage of silver and lead, a curious combination, as is also the fact that native copper is often met with in the free ore. The mines are all as dry as a powder horn, even at a depth of 400 feet, water being brought in wagons from a distance.

The district is more than paying for its own development. The Peabody claims furnish about three carloads of ore a day for shipment to the El Paso smelter, profit being secured from ore carrying only 8 per cent. copper, though the average is nearer twice that value. The Campbell claims are being drawn upon for a couple of carloads daily, while the Mammoth does as well. Mr. Schwertha ships three carloads a week from claims he owns in the vicinity.

SEEKING A HOME.

SITES FOR A NEW CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BUILDING.

For over two months a committee of the Chamber of Commerce has been working assiduously to secure an option on a suitable site for a new Chamber of Commerce building. A great many locations have been proposed in all parts of the city and they have had consideration, but it was early decided that the building to answer the purposes for which it is intended must not be farther south than Fifth street and must front on either Hill, Broadway, Spring or Main street. On this account many locations that were offered outside this section have not been seriously considered by the committee, notably two sites that were proposed as a donation.

While the final selection has not yet been made, the committee has come to a general conclusion regarding the fitness of the sites proposed for the new building and will make a report to the Board of Directors within a few days, if the present plan is carried out. The choice practically lies between three sites, with a fourth location as a possibility. One site is the property at the northwest corner of Fifth and Hill streets, opposite Central Park. Another is the Wiley property, midway between First and Second streets, on the east side of Broadway, where is now located a Chinese laundry and the new "lunch-counter block," which a prominent citizen asserted had twenty-seven bricks in it. The third site is the Gov. Downey property on Main street, adjoining the Van Nuys on the north. The northwest corner of Fifth and Main streets has also received some attention from the committee, and there is a possibility that it will be chosen.

All the lots are of good size, ranging from 125 to 175 feet frontage with about the same depth. These sites have been selected from the number proposed to the committee, and it does not necessarily follow that any of the four will be finally chosen. If other citizens have property centrally located that is available for the purpose, it will receive consideration. Unless there are other offers, however one of these four sites will be recommended by the committee as a location for a permanent home.

Many reasons are urged in favor of locating the building on a corner lot. The exhibits require thorough ventilation to keep them in good order, and to be displayed to the best advantage it is necessary to have plenty of light. Then, too, the building must be easy of access and for this reason two entrances are very desirable. In case of fire the means of escape are more ample and it would be easier to save the valuable exhibits.

When the site is finally chosen, work will at once begin on plans for the new building, which will probably cost between $50,000 and $100,000. It will be as near fire-proof as possible and it is hoped that sufficient revenue will be derived from the rent of the store rooms in the lower part of the building to pay all the expense of construction in time.

The special building committee has acted in conjunction with the permanent Stockholders' Committee in selecting a site. The personnel of these committees is as follows:

Stockholders' Committee—Charles Forman, Robert McGarvin, Ferd K. Rule, W. A. Harris, C. H. Sessions.

Special Building Committee—A. B. Cass, J. S. Slauson, W. C. Patterson, F. Q. Story, Homer Laughlin, W. H. Hellman, Kaspare Cohn, W. C. Cline, Charles Silent.

EVENTS OF THE DAY.

Instead of adding another 100 additional lights to the specifications for street lighting, the City Council proposes to take the more satisfactory course of having included in the contract a provision enabling them to add such lights as they desire from time to time, the price to be the same for these added lights as that paid for the others under the contract.

The Council has repudiated the payment into the city treasury of $400 by the Los Angeles City Water Company, so-alleged rental for water, and has directed all heads of city departments not to accept any money from that company on account of the former contract between the city and the company.

Hereafter it will not be necessary for physicians to make reports of cases of measles to the health office. Instead they will be required to report cases of tuberculosis. This was decided upon at a regular meeting of the Board of Health.

The slaughter house or packing-house fight has ended, so far as the Council is concerned, that body by a vote of 5 to 4 having passed the ordinance legalizing the erection of such establishments in the district petitioned for.

The final ordinance calling a special election for the selection of a board of fifteen freeholders to draft a new city charter, was adopted by the City Council yesterday. The election will be held Friday, July 27.

The trial of Dr. J. W. Going began yesterday on a charge of grand larceny. The case is tried in the criminal court before Judge Trask. Dr. Going is accused of being a participant in a bunco scheme whereby a rancher, W. H. H. Young, lost $300 late last summer.

Ex-Sheriff John Burr was defendant in a $2000 damage suit on trial before Judge Shaw yesterday.

The jury in the case of Dixon, the accused dockpad, retired at 12:11 o'clock yesterday afternoon and at a late hour last night no verdict had been returned.

Police Court statistics show that the business for the first five months of this year is largely in excess of that for the corresponding period in 1899. Justices Morgan and Austin are making many for the city.

Robert Burke, arrested on the charge of being a suspicious character, was sentenced to six months' imprisonment yesterday. The court gave him a chance to reform, by suspending execution of sentence pending good behavior.

[AT THE CITY HALL.]

PLENTY OF LIGHTS.

New Plan to Be Adopted by the Council.

Payment of Water "Rent" Repudiated. Packing-house Ordinance Passed.

Although the City Council was not able to complete yesterday the specifications under which bids for a new street-lighting contract are soon to be called for, the delay will in no wise affect the street lighting. In fact, as a result of the delay, a plan will be adopted which will be satisfactory to nearly all the people of the city, especially to those in the outlying districts where lights are few and far between. Briefly stated, the new plan is this:

Two kinds of bids are to be asked for, one for lighting the city with 934 lamps, or 100 more than are in use at present. The other bids will be on specifications calling for 100 additional lights, but the additional provision will be inserted that the city may at any time increase the lights to any extent, at the same rate. It is expected that there will be little difference in the bids on the two kinds of specifications and that the City Council will adopt that plan, the effect of which would be to make it possible to grant a petition for a new light at any time while the contract is in force.

This plan, which is deemed by the Gas and Light Committee to be preferable to that of ordering 200 additional lights, will, it is thought, solve the lighting question. If a contract should be let calling simply for 200 additional lights and the bids should be so high that the city could not afford to pay for that number, it would be difficult for the members of the City Council to determine where they would reduce the number of lights allotted to them. Under the other system, the constituents of the several members of the Council could be assured of lights wherever they could convince the Gas and Light Committee that they are needed.

It is impossible to predict what the price of lights will be under the next contract. The price which the city is now paying is $5, per month per lamp, but it is expected, owing to a competition among the several electric companies, that the new price will be considerably higher. The higher the price the less business in lighting the city will be able to do, for there is little assurance that at the end of the present fiscal year there will not be a shortage almost as large as that of last year.

GRANTED BOTH REQUESTS.

PACKING-HOUSE FIGHT ENDED.

By a vote of 5 to 4 the City Council yesterday adopted an ordinance changing the limits within which it is legal to erect a packing-house, slaughter-house, or other such establishment. If the Mayor signs the ordinance—and there is some doubt as to whether he will do so—either Hobson Bros. & Gardner, Simon Maier, or any other person may erect such an establishment within the new territory. The action of the Council was a victory for the Hobson firm, who first applied for the right to erect a packing-house near the river and Alhambra avenue. The counter petition was regarded more as an effort to block that petition than as endeavor to secure the same right for the persons instrumental in having it filed. That the vote on the ordinance would be close had been expected, and there were those who predicted that the proposed ordinance would be defeated. The matter has been in the hands of the Board of Public Works, and that body had held hearings at which residents of that part of the city had appeared and protested against or appealed for the granting of the petition. The board itself was not a unit, Councilman Todd refusing to sign the final report which the board made, and which was as follows:

"Upon the statement of the health officer that such a packing-house can be carried on with practically no offense to the people even in the near vicinity, and as we believe that people living in the neighborhood, who have been fully informed as to the operations of a modern packing-house are largely in favor of it, we therefore recommend that the petition be granted, and the accompanying ordinance placed upon its passage."

As soon as this report had been presented, the ordinance changing the limits was read. Councilman Vetter stated that he had not been advised of the exact limits of the new section; that he was not familiar enough with that section to vote intelligently; that there was no special hurry about the matter, and he therefore asked that the matter be postponed until the next regular meeting of the Council. Attorney W. E. Dunn, who represented the first petitioners, sought to convince Mr. Vetter that he had only to consult a map of the city to ascertain what the boundaries of the new section are. Councilman Toll moved that the two propositions be considered separately; but to this Attorney J. T. Jones objected, intimating that if the two did not go together, his clients, Simon Maier, and others, would never have a chance to secure the limits they desired. Mr. Jones said that the boundaries of the district are all right, as reference to the map would show.

Taking the attorneys at their word, Mr. Vetter did consult the map and the discovery he made was surprising. He found that had the ordinance been adopted in the form in which it was presented, the district within which the erection of slaughter-houses would be legal, would have included the Macy-street school and several hundred residences in that immediate vicinity. This was not what was intended, and was due to a careless preparation of the statement of the boundaries of the district. There was a hurried change in the descriptions of boundaries.

Several property owners spoke in opposition of the adoption of the ordinance, and others favored it, most of the opposition coming from Joseph Mesmer, and for a time the proceedings were quite lively. Motions and counter motions were made, but finally after the change in the description of the boundaries of the district had been made, the ordinance was placed upon its passage. There voted in the affirmative, Councilmen Baker, Blanchard, Pierce, Toll and Silver (5); in the negative, Councilmen Lauder, Todd, Pessell and Vetter (4.)

In casting his vote, President Silver stated that while he had said he was ordinarily opposed to the adoption of any ordinance which had for its object the granting of permission for the erection of anything in a residence section which would be objectionable to the people residing there, if, however, the people most interested, and whose homes were near the place affected did not object, but petitioned the Council to grant them what they asked, he considered it the duty of any Councilman to grant the wishes of the people.

MAY DEFEAT IT.

Those who opposed the ordinance did not stop in their fight when the Council adopted the measure, but they went to the Mayor to secure, if possible, his veto. It so happened that there was in session in the Mayor's office a regular meeting of the Board of Health, and this was just what the opponents of the measure most desired. If they could secure from the board a declaration that the erection of a slaughter-house would be a menace to the health of that part of the city, they were sure the Mayor would veto the ordinance, and that would settle it, for six votes would be required to pass it over his veto. They came near securing just such an official declaration from the board, and the Mayor admitted that such a declaration would go very much right with him. Several motions were made in the board, but none of them were put. It was finally decided that within the next week the members of the Board of Health will visit the locality, and will report to the Mayor their opinions.

REPUDIATED PAYMENT.

NO WATER RENTAL WANTED.

The City Council has publicly and officially repudiated the payment to the City Treasurer by the Los Angeles City Water Company of $400 which that company claimed to owe the city as rental for water according to the terms of the now famous contract between the city and the company. The purpose of the payment was to clinch, if possible, the contention of the company that the contract is still in full force and effect, which is strongly denied by the city. The fact of the payment was reported to the Council yesterday morning by City Attorney Haas and he recommended that a resolution be adopted repudiating the payment. He further suggested that all heads of departments be directed not to accept money from the water company on account of the contract or anything which has any bearing upon it. The money was paid into the treasury and was accompanied by an authorization from the Auditor that the money should be accepted. The City Attorney does not regard the matter as at all serious to the city's interests. At the afternoon session of the Council the City Attorney presented a resolution repudiating the acceptance of the $400 and authorizing the return of the money. It was unanimously adopted.

WILL SUE FOR PROPERTY.

FOR ECHO PARK IMPROVEMENT.

In order to secure the property necessary to extend and enlarge Echo Park the City Attorney was yesterday directed to commence condemnation proceedings against those owners of property who have not made transfers to the city for that purpose. The land which the city desires is that lying between the southern end of Echo Park and Temple street, and by its acquisition the size of the park will be doubled. The Finance Committee of the Council, to whom the matter had been referred, submitted a report recommending "that the deeds for the lots heretofore referred to the City Attorney, be accepted by the Council and the City Clerk instructed to place the same of record free and clear of all incumbrances, and that the City Attorney be instructed to commence condemnation proceedings for the abandonment of the remaining lots necessary to complete the transfer to the city of all the property lying between the present southern boundary of Echo Park and the northern boundary of Temple street."

Will Allow the Claim.

The claim against the city presented by D. W. Collins for the payment to him of $57, has been referred to the Finance Committee of the Council. Collins was arrested while dead drunk and taken to the Police Station. Inside the jail he was robbed by a trusty, who used $57 of the money thus secured to obtain his own liberty. The money was paid into the city treasury, and now Collins claims it as recovered property. He will probably get his money. The man who robbed him, pleaded guilty in court.

Need not Report Measles.

At a meeting of the Board of Health yesterday afternoon Health Officer Powers called the attention of the board to the fact that the work in his department is greatly increased because of a rule which requires that all cases of measles be reported, the same as other contagious diseases, although there are several much more serious diseases that are not reported. During the past week ninety-six cases of measles were reported, and a record had to be made of each. He said that there have been hundreds of such cases, and inasmuch as the disease is more often not at all serious, he thought the work of reporting and recording the cases was needless. The members of the board agreed with him. It was ordered that hereafter no reports of measles be made, but instead, all physicians in the city be directed to report cases of tuberculosis, and that a copy of this new ruling be sent to all the doctors.

Will Try it Again.

For several years certain property owners on Temple street have been endeavoring to secure a change of grade of that street, which will result in cutting down the steep hill which has its summit at Bunker Hill avenue. Many petitions have been filed, and it has been seldom, indeed, that there has not been before the Council some such proposition in one form or another. Recently a petition which lacked the necessary majority of property frontage was filed, and necessarily it was denied. Yesterday a new petition, said to bear the signatures of the necessary majority, was filed, and was referred to the Board of Public Works.

City Engineer's Report.

Accompanying the weekly report of the City Engineer to the City Council yesterday were the following ordinances, all of which were adopted under suspensions of the rules: Final ordinance establishing the grade of Arapahoe street from Washington street to the south line of the Reeve tract; ordinance of intention for the sewering of Cortez street between Lake Shore avenue and Belmont avenue; ordinance of intention for the grading, etc., of Breed street from First street to Fourth street; ordinance of intention for the construction of a cement walk six feet wide along the north side of Pasadena avenue from Avenue 15 to Avenue 25.

Will Sue for Taxes.

City Tax Collector White sent a communication to the Council yesterday calling the attention of that body to the existence of a law which permits him to bring suit for delinquent taxes when the amount of the delinquency exceeds $300. He also stated that B. Ballerino owes the city $1009.50 as delinquent taxes, and while every effort has been made by selling the property and otherwise to collect this amount, he has not been able to do so. He wanted to know of the Council what to do about it. The Council authorized him to bring suit against Ballerino for the amount, it being understood that the delinquent is worth many times the sum due the city.

Election Ordinance Passed.

City Attorney Haas presented to the City Council yesterday the final ordinance calling a special election, at which to select a board of fifteen freeholders, whose duty it will be to draft a new city charter. The ordinance is very voluminous, including the names of all the election officers, the voting places, a statement of the purpose of the election, etc. As has before been published, the date fixed for the election is July 27, six weeks from next Friday. The ordinance was adopted without division. It must be published for ten days, and after that the petitions of nomination must be filed twenty days before the election.

Want More Information.

Since the discovery of the first case of bubonic plague in San Francisco, the United States Marine Hospital Service has had constantly employed a number of inspectors at different points, their duties being to closely inspect Chinese and Japanese so as to prevent a spread of the plague. At a meeting of the Board of Health yesterday a resolution was adopted requesting Surg.-Gen. Wyman to instruct these inspectors to also look out for other serious contagious diseases, and in the event that they are such as the inspectors cannot control, report the facts to the local authorities here and elsewhere. A copy of this resolution will be sent to Gen. Wyman at Washington.

To Clean Chinatown.

Health Officer Powers and Chief of Police Elton held a conference yesterday morning on the question of improving the sanitary condition of the Chinese quarter. The Health Officer was assured that the police will give him every assistance possible in his effort. Later in the day Dr. Powers mentioned the matter at the meeting of the Board of Health and was given full authority to take such action as he deems best to secure a thorough cleansing of Chinatown, and to prosecute those who refuse to place their premises in proper sanitary condition.

Street Contract Let.

On recommendation of the Board of Public Works, the Council yesterday passed resolutions awarding contracts for street work, as follows: P. A. Howard, to improve Fremont avenue from First street to Mignonette street; F. W. Whittier, to curb and sidewalk with cement Boyd street, between Los Angeles street and Omar avenue; J. Hain, to construct a cement curb on Wall street, between Boyd and Eighth streets; F. W. Whittier, to improve Turner street, from Center street to the easterly termination of Turner street.

To Fix Water Rates.

A special meeting of the City Council will be held Thursday morning, at which will be present representatives of the West Side Water Company. The purpose is to arrive at some understanding with reference to rates. The company recently secured an injunction restraining the city from enforcing the schedule of rates adopted last January and which were intended to apply to all the water companies in the city. In the opinion of the City Attorney it is useless to continue the litigation.

Soil is Suitable.

Two weeks ago property owners on Arapahoe street petitioned the City Council for the improvement of that street with the natural gravel of the street. The petition was referred to the Street Superintendent for a report as to whether the soil there is suitable for street work. He reported to the Council yesterday, recommending that the petition be granted. The City Engineer was therefore directed to prepare the necessary ordinance ordering the improvement.

DR. GOING GONE TO TRIAL.

Charged With the Crime of Grand Larceny.

A Whittier Rancher Says He Was Systematically Buncoed.

The trial of Dr. J. W. Going on a charge of grand larceny began before Judge Trask in the criminal department of the Superior Court yesterday afternoon. The time was spent in impaneling a jury.

Dr. Going sat through it all, nervous and excited. He is not well and has the appearance of a consumptive. His skin is white, his eyes large and lustrous, and over his face straggles a set of dark-brown whiskers. He is a little man, of slight build and wasted figure.

The defendant doctor is accused by the District Attorney of being vitally implicated in a scheme with N. H. McLean and a man named Casey to bunco W. H. H. Young, a Whittier rancher, out of $300. McLean was recently convicted of embezzling $900 worth of watches and jewelry from L. B. Cohn, the North Spring-street jeweler and pawnbroker, last December, for which Judge Smith sentenced him to ten years in the penitentiary at San Quentin. Casey fled. He was last heard of in Texas, but even an indictment by the recent grand jury failed to disclose his whereabouts.

Dr. Going's part in the big scheme, which the authorities do not hesitate to dub "bunco," was merely professional. One day late last summer the crook struck the city in the guise of a wealthy invalid from the East, who had come to California to spend the few remaining days allotted him in bowers of flowers and the boon of balmy breezes. He said his name was Casey and he wanted to buy a ranch; he didn't care a cent/cyune for expense.

So McLean and Casey knew that Young had a nice ranch down on the banks of the San Gabriel River, which he had bought with money won in the Louisiana lottery, took Casey, the sick man, down to look over the property. Casey didn't know whether he liked it or not; in fact, he was inclined not to like it. So the next play was McLean's again; so he took Young apart, suggested Casey's unstable health and quietly informed him that Casey was under absolute control of his doctor and that he would do anything the latter advised. The "doctor" referred to is now alleged to have been Dr. Going. "Give him $300, and he'll see that Casey buys your ranch," was the essence of McLean's address to Young, and the suggestion was pleasing to him.

He thought it all over, and a day or so after Casey's second or third visit to the ranch, Young took $300 into Dr. Going's office and gave it to him, so he says, as commission in case a sale of his property was affected. He swears he paid the money under no other circumstances.

In due time Casey agreed to take the ranch and gave Young in payment for it a New York draft for $14,000. Everybody was happy. But not for long. Inside of two weeks the draft was returned as worthless and Young began to realize that he had been tricked. When he set out to find Casey, he had fled. McLean was ostensibly disgusted, and would have nothing to do with any further negotiations, while Dr. Going refused to give back the $300, on the ground that it was paid to him unconditionally.

Then followed the arrest of McLean and Dr. Going, who were charged jointly with grand larceny. After lying in the County Jail for several weeks the latter was admitted to liberty on a $1000 bond, one of his sureties being his landlady, who averred that she was only too eager to go on the doctor's bond, for she knew he was innocent.

He is now trying to prove his innocence.

The prosecution of his case is in the hands of Assistant District Attorney Jones, while his defense is being conducted by W. H. Molina, Esq.

The following are the jurors selected: S. W. Blythe, Henry L. Wood, Fremont Cobb, James Newell, M. P. Snyder, D. Loomis, J. V. Mora, T. H. Lowman, D. V. Crafts, L. E. Miller, A. H. Sanborn and Oscar Bulla.

DAMAGE SUIT.

EX-SHERIFF BURR DEFENDANT.

John Burr, who was Sheriff of this county for the term ending December 31, 1898, was defendant yesterday in a damage suit on trial before Judge Shaw, in which Gavin Witherspoon was plaintiff, with a prayer for damages in the sum of $2500.

Witherspoon bases his action on an assigned claim from George W. Laing, who on February 3, 1898, conducted a general merchandise business in San Gabriel Cañon. On that date Laing's stock was attached by the Sheriff on a writ issued in an action entitled A. P. Cross vs. J. W. Miller and T. R. Bassett, partners, G. W. Laing, W. G. Kerckhoff and the San Gabriel Electric Company.

The stock, which was taken possession of by the Sheriff, consisted of a lot of groceries and provisions, 85,000 feet of lumber, 3000 feet of track iron, and tools, cars, water pipe, screens and camping outfits—of an aggregate value of $8100. The attachment was in force from February 3, 1898, to January 13, 1899, when judgment was duly entered in favor of Laing as against Cross, who had caused the attachment.

As soon as the property was free from the writ, Laing wanted it back from the Sheriff, but he says that when he began to investigate as to its condition, he found it in very bad shape. So negligently, it is alleged, did the Sheriff handle and keep the property while he had it that about two-thirds of the lumber was lost, that large quantities of the groceries were consumed by his deputies and otherwise destroyed, and that the track iron, tools, cars, pipe and screens were damaged, broken and twisted and rendered valueless.

For all that Laing is alleged to have suffered, Witherspoon now asks for $2500 damages. He is also suing Cross's bondsmen on undertaking for damages in $500. Burr's answer to the suit against him is a general denial. The case will probably conclude today.

INCORPORATIONS.

THREE COMPANIES YESTERDAY.

The American Amber Oil Company incorporated yesterday with a capital stock of $300,000, divided into $1 shares, of which amount $30 has been subscribed. Los Angeles will be the principal place of business. The directors are: Robert Wankowski, J. B. Abell, Samuel Crawford, Thomas George, G. E. Fairhead and W. H. Upp, of Los Angeles.

The Electric Oil Company, with principal place of business in Los Angeles, incorporated yesterday with a capital stock of $50,000, divided into $1 shares, which amount is fully subscribed. The directors are: R. W. Poindexter, T. B. Wadsworth, D. T. Davenport, Thomas Vigus, Los Angeles; and W. N. Van Nuys, Pasadena.

The California Lithographic Stone Company, with principal place of business in Los Angeles, has incorporated with a capital stock of $10,000, fully subscribed. The directors are: Romulo Pico, Erskine M. Ross, Joseph H. Call, Los Angeles; José G. Moraga and Juventino Moraga, Santa Barbara.

THE DIXON JURY.

PROMISES TO DISAGREE.

The jury in the trial of George Dixon on a charge of highway robbery, was out all yesterday afternoon and last night without returning a verdict. It retired at 12:11 o'clock, noon, the forenoon having been spent in hearing the arguments.

At 5 o'clock Judge Smith went home, stating that he would not return until this morning unless a verdit were reached before 10 o'clock p. m. The courtroom was comfortably filled all day yesterday with spectators eager to know the fate of the accused highwayman. Now that the jury has been out so long it is feared that it will "hang" and that it must be discharged for disagreement.

The jury went to bed at 10 o'clock in charge of the court officer.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

KNOT UNTIED. Celina Schneider was divorced from John Schneider by Judge Fitzgerald yesterday, on the ground of desertion.

A BIG MORTGAGE. The National Trust Company and O. H. Churchill have begun suit against the University Bank of Los Angeles and almost a dozen other defendants, to foreclose a $30,000 mortgage on property in this city.

[POLICE COURT.]

BUSINESS ON THE INCREASE.

City Justices Making Money for the City.

Work of the Police and Constables Reflected in the Courts.

The business of the Police Court has increased considerably since January 1, 1900, owing partly, no doubt, to the growth of population, and partly, perhaps, to the increased vigilance of the police in detecting crime.

A comparative statement for the first five months of the present year shows that Justice Morgan of Department One of the Police and City Justice Court has had under consideration 769 misdemeanor cases, as against 686 for the same period last year; 39 felony cases, against 34; and 104 civil suits, against 61. The fines collected by the clerk of this department aggregate $1291 for the first five months of 1900, an increase of almost 100 per cent. over the fines for the months noted in 1899, when the amount was only $1295.

In Department Two, Justice Austin's court, the misdemeanor cases for the first five months of 1900 aggregate 841, felony cases, 38, and civil actions, 43, as compared with 763 misdemeanor, 49 felonies, and 95 civil suits for the five months prior to June 1, 1899. The fines collected in this department from January 1 to June 1, 1900, amounted to $2776.50, as against $1316 for the same months in 1899.

The totals for both departments for the first five months of 1900 are: Misdemeanor, 1610; felonies, 97; civil actions, 165; fines collected, $4066.50, as compared with 1497 misdemeanor cases, 74 felonies, 168 civil actions and $2594 fines during the corresponding period of last year.

The percentage of increase is as follows: Misdemeanors, 10.5 per cent.; felonies, 31 per cent.; civil actions, 21.5 per cent.; fines, 59 per cent. The increase in the amount of fines collected is especially gratifying, as the city is thus deriving a revenue of more than $1000 per month, which pays all the running expenses of the court, and leaves a handsome balance to go into the general police fund.

The increase of 31 per cent. in felony cases is pointed to as an indication that the police department is not idle in ferreting out crime. The proportion of felonious crimes reported to the department is not greater, in spite of the late epidemic of hold-ups, than it has been for several years past, but the records show that the number of arrests and convictions is greater, notwithstanding the hue and cry that has been raised about the alleged apathy and inefficiency of the police department. It is a remarkable fact that the number of burglaries and petty thefts reported to the police in the last few months is much smaller than in any corresponding period during the last few years. This is no doubt due to the fact that the strict patrol of the residence sections of the city since the footpad epidemic began, has made it unsafe for burglars and petty thieves to operate as freely as they could before so many officers were on the alert. As nearly every person who roams the streets at night now is liable to get held up by some policeman, the chances for burglars to get caught with booty in their possession, which would insure their certain conviction, are so great that not many of them are taking the risk of capture. On no other grounds has the meagerness of burglaries lately reported been accounted for.

Although the work of the two departments of the City Justice and Police Court is steadily increasing, the court calendars are not so badly congested as might be presumed. It is true that there are a number of cases which have been awaiting trial for a long time, but this is principally due to the obstructions raised by attorneys interested. A good many cases are hanging fire on account of appeals in similar cases pending in the Superior Court. The initial prosecution, under nearly every new city ordinance has to run the gamut of demurrers and appeals, and it sometimes takes months to get a final decision in one little misdemeanor case.

Trial by jury in misdemeanor cases is one of the chief causes of congesting the lower courts. It usually takes all of one day to try even the most petty case by jury, most of the time being spent in securing a jury to try it, as the average citizen is prone to shirk jury service. The majority of saloon, gambling and Chinese lottery cases have to be tried by jury, and as arrests in such cases are usually made in bunches, it sometimes takes weeks to get the calendars cleared of them.

At the present rate of increase of Police Court business, it will not be long before a third department will have to be added, in order to insure prompt trial of all cases, unless the civil business is eliminated, and the city police justices required to attend to criminal business only. A great deal of the time of the city justices, who are ex-officio police justices, is taken up now with the hearing of civil cases. The fees collected in such cases go into the city treasury, so the justices are not making any bid for this class of business. They are quite content to see the civil cases go to the Township Justice, whose remuneration depends in part upon the amount of fees he collects. However, the present city justices are not complaining of overwork, although they are both kept quite busy. The fact that they do not sit on the bench all of every day hearing cases, is no sign that they are not at work, as they are compelled to spend much time in chambers, examining documentary evidence, looking up points of law, and preparing opinions.

One factor which sometimes prevents prompt trial of criminal cases, is the inability of Deputy District Attorney Chambers to be in two places at the same time. Mr. Chambers is the prosecuting attorney for both departments of the Police Court, and trials which demand his attention must be set so as not to require his services in both courts at once. Occasionally one court is temporarily idle, because the District Attorney's office is not represented. There is not a busier official at the Police Station than Deputy District Attorney Chambers, who finds that the extra exertions made by the police to bring lawbreakers to justice are making increased demands upon his time.

The work of the city constables and special officers is included in the foregoing résumé of business transacted by the city courts.

SIX-MONTHS' FLOATER.

BURKE'S CHANCE TO REFORM.

Edward Burke, one of the gang of suspicious characters arrested by the police more than a week ago, was tried for vagrancy yesterday in Justice Morgan's court. Burke's associations have been such as to lead the detectives to believe that he might know more about the recent hold-ups than he would care to tell; but after investigation they found nothing to connect him with any of the recent crimes. He has for years been an idle and dissolute person, however, and it was for this reason that it was determined to vag him. He was vagged once before, and was released on a floating sentence, on promise to lead a better life, but he failed

HUSBAND IN SOAK.

WIFE WOULDN'T PAY HIS [illegible]

Nine drunks made up the [illegible] cases on the Police Court calendar for the regular session yesterday afternoon. Chief among them were D. W. Collins and Albert Bell, who caused a disturbance in the vicinity of the residence of Maj. Horace Bell on Figueroa street, Sunday evening. The latter, who arrested them testified that Bell was not very drunk, but he thought it best that he should be sent to jail and locked up with his drunken companion, Collins, who was on the verge of delirium tremens. The latter testified further that in his acquaintance of several months, he had never seen Collins sober. Both men admitted the charge and had nothing in extenuation, except Bell, who asked for a floating sentence. The latter was fined $2 and Collins $5, or in the alternative of as many days' imprisonment. Bell appealingly looked at his charming wife to pay his fine, but she daintily waved him a farewell and whisked out of court with a frown on her purse. A brother of Collins, who was in court, could not help him, so the two worthies went below to serve their time.

Ward hired a deputy constable to take them out to hustle for money to pay their fines.

Four other plain drunks were [illegible] to do so. This time he was [illegible] ing to plead guilty, and [illegible] sentence.

Burke's aged parents, who are [illegible] speakable people, and Attorney [illegible] Gordon, were in court to plead for him. The lawyer stated that the prisoner was in a dangerous condition, and that his parents were willing to take him home and care for him, and would only forgive his evil habits with them. This the court agreed to do, if the court would give him a chance. To that proposition complaint setting forth that Burke was addicted to drink, and about 12 at late and unseemly hours last night, the defendant pleaded guilty, but he would not admit that he was an associate of known thieves. The prosecution agreed to waive the named accusation, and [illegible] over upon the plea [illegible] Deputy City Attorney Parker [illegible] and directed that the court [illegible] sentence of thirty days' imprisonment, but suspended execution pending good behavior.

Arizona, upon some high ... the desert waste. ... dance he characterized as a dramatization of a prayer for rain. There are other features of the ceremony, whereby the natives seek to propitiate their gods. It is celebrated by the seven Moqui pueblos in the former Spanish province of Tusayan, numbering about 2000 souls—all that is left of the ancient race. The observance of the day comes in August between the 15th and 25th. The one described by Mr. Brigham took place in Walpi on August 16.

He told how the snakes were gathered from the desert by the natives, who snatched the rattlers from their abodes among the rocks without hesitation or fear. The only nation he said, who dared to handle a live wire! The preliminary ceremonies, lasting eight days, were briefly touched upon. Then comes the culminating event. The "antelope priests" and the "snake priests" chant their solemn songs; they circle the center space four times, stamping on a board with a hole in it to let their ancestors know that the dance has begun; then the "huggers" and the "gatherers" bring out the wriggling snakes, and, taking them in their mouths and twining them about their arms and necks, begin the strange ceremony. Finally the head snake priest makes a circle of sacred meal in the center of the cleared space. Into this circle the snakes are thrown, only to be caught again from the writhing, wriggling, twisting heap and taken by the priests north, south, east and west to tell the rain god of the faith of his devotees.

Mr. Brigham painted a pretty picture of the native simplicity of life in the pueblos; how the day did not foster nor the night cloak crime, so common in the rampany of progress commonly called civilization. He sang two Indian songs in the native Moqui tongue—songs of the "Wheel Dance" and of "The Sun"—which were much appreciated. Two Castilian songs, given in the Spanish tongue, ended the programme. The speaker was warmly applauded. A large number of stereopticon pictures, illustrative of scenes in the Moqui village, were thrown upon the screen during the evening.

OFFICE OF THE TIMES.
Los Angeles, June 11, 1900.

[The following quotations on sales of citrus fruits in the East yesterday have been wired exclusively to the Times, and leave it to be inferred by them to be published simultaneously in our other journals. When so published, they are usually printed from this paper.]

ORANGES IN THE EAST YESTERDAY

SMALL SALES AT BOSTON.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON (Mass.) June 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There were eight cars of California oranges offered at auction here today and two withdrawn. There was no improvement on the market on ordinary fruit. Fifteen cars are on the roads unsold. Choice navels, regulars, average $2.67; standard navels, regulars, $2.32; fancy Mediterranean sweets, regulars, $2.46; choice Mediterranean sweets, regulars, $2.13; small, $1.80; fancy seedlings, regulars, $1.30; choice seedlings, regulars, $1.09; small, $1.02; fancy into Valencias, regulars, $2.07; fancy blonds, $1.87; choice blonds, $1.97.

Citrus-fruit Shipments.

There were shipped East from Southern California on Saturday and Sunday sixty-three carloads of oranges and eighteen of lemons. This makes a total for the season of all citrus fruits of 11,703 carloads.

FINANCIAL.

A COUNTRY BANK. Well-managed country banks pay the stockholders a good profit. The Month Onofre Commercial Bank earned 12½ per cent. on the capital stock last year. A 6 per cent. dividend was made, and the rest was added to the surplus.

COMMERCIAL.

FOREIGN CITRUS FRUIT. The quantities of lemons and oranges, by the month, of the year to America on the date May 26, for the last three years, are as follows:

	1898.	1899.	1900.
Lemons	183,700	126,450	360,300
Oranges		5,200	7,600

HONEY. There is not much new crop honey offering in this market. In San Francisco the following quotations are published: Dull. Dregs water white, unremunde 6½@7 cents on the spot, and light amber, 6 cents; San Joaquin Valley light amber, 5@6½ cents, and white 8½@9 cents in the country. Lower prices are looked for on the season advances.

Eastern honey prices are quoted here in the local market.

TREND OF PRICES. Intelligent purchasers are watching carefully the general trend of prices just now. The following comparisons, made by a New York authority, will prove interesting: Cash prices of staple commodities:

	May 8, 1900.	May 8, 1899.
Wheat, No. 2 red	$ .69	$ .76
Corn, No. 2 mixed	.41½	.37½
Oats, No. 2 mixed	.25	.21
Pork, mess, per barrel	15.12½	11.50
Lard, prime	7.15	5.10
Tallow, prime	4.50	3.50
Cotton, middling	.10	.06
Print cloths	.03½	.02½
Sugar, fair refining	.04	.03
Coffee, Rio No. 7	.06½	.04½
Petroleum, refined	.07½	.06½
Petroleum, crude	1.10	.70
Pig iron, No. 1 foundry	18.00	15.00
Steel rails	28.00	28.00

APRICOT PRICES. The California fruit farmer says of the market for canned apricots:

"Number of new apricots are reported this week. Cutting has become quite general in the early sections. There is very little trading in futures reported in the canning districts, but in the San Joaquin Valley a few purchases have been made at 6@6½ cents in carload lots, and shippers are quoting out at 7@7½ cents in bags, f.o.b. In the Vacaville district growers' ideas are 7 cents at present, hence very light business to report. The situation is a peculiar one. Buyers have no 'bargaining' at this time, and are not inclined to speculate in futures. The outlook is for a large yield of cured fruit, as the crops are a good average and prices for fresh fruits are hopeful to rule low. The eastern demand will not be as heavy as was expected early in the season, owing to the enormous crops of fruit from Maine to Texas. In short, the market is quiet and featureless.

"Chicago buyers wire 6½ cents for choice new crop 'cots, June shipment, and 6¾ cents for July shipment. Hamburg brokers cable 6¾ cents as the outside price in that city for future purchases. This would not the shipper about $7.20 per 200 pounds, in twenty-five-pound boxes."

The New York Merchants' Review says: "Apricots are not selling well for future delivery, as 7¼@7½ cents c.o.b., the general quotations for choice Royals in bags are above buyers' views, which are 7@7¼ cents."

GENERAL BUSINESS TOPICS.

ADULTERATING CALIFORNIA HONEY. Outrageous violations of the law concerning the sale of honeys and jellies have been discovered by State Chemist Hammond, says the Interstate Grocer, of St. Louis. Samples of "honey" just analyzed, although harmless, are no more like honey than Mr. Hummel is like Hercules. Jars of stuff, labeled as the finest California honey, contained nothing but glucose, without even a drop of the bee product. In some cases the remnant of a honeycomb was inserted, giving the glucose a flavor of the "real thing." About one-third of the samples of alleged honey contained either none or only a little material beyond glucose and cane sugar. The violations of the law are exceptionally flagrant.

Similar adulternations have been discovered in jellies. These are made of gluetine, starch, flour, gelatine and artificial coloring. The latter, in some cases, was found to be injurious. Of the samples examined, only 25 per cent. were found to be pure jelly. The State chemist called attention to a deceptive label on jars now being sold in this city. On the label, the name "raspberry jelly" is printed in large letters, and over it "best flavored," with a postscript in very small letters, to the effect that the "raspberry" flavor comes from apples.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKETS.

Butter is firm. Stocks are barely sufficient to go around.

Cheese is steady.

Beans are quiet, but firm.

Very little new honey is coming in here. Prices are steady.

Poultry is very slow.

Lemons are in good demand at $2.50@2.75 per box, good to fancy, in one or two box lots. Grocers get 1½@2 cents for green and 2@2½ for cured in large lots.

Fresh fruits are generally steady. Clyman plums are down to 75 cents. Few peaches are coming in. Apricots are more plentiful, but prices keep up. Blackberries and Logan berries are cheap. Strawberries and raspberries keep pretty high.

London Silver.

LONDON, June 11.—Consols, 101½; silver, 28⅞.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

SHARES AND MONEY.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, June 11.—After a day of great irregularity in the movement of prices and an extremely narrow interest in the market, profits of stocks closed generally lower on the down grade. There are one or two exceptions to the rule, and a few special features of strength, but practically all the gains were wiped out by the massing of adversity hidden in sympathy with a better tone abroad. Estimates by arbitrage houses of buying for London account place the number of 5,000 shares in the total at current of 10,000. Apparently the liquidation taken of this London buying to realize and the level of the market on Saturday's close. Missouri Pacific ran off a point and the grangers were also weaker on the ground of a continued drought in the Northwest, to which was attributed the furiously active and excited wheat market. Buying of Reading preferred and of Northern Pacific turned the tide of prices upward again. The trunk line and coal stock, led by Baltimore and Ohio, showed some degree of strength. The late reaction in the market had its inception in Northern Pacific. The stock fell away on the announcement that the meeting to consider the rate of dividend which had been fixed for Wednesday, had been postponed to Friday to await the arrival of an influential member of the voting trustees. Coupled with the opinion reported by J. J. Hill that "it will be well for us all to go a little slow" in increasing dividends, fears were awakened in the minds of traders that a disappointment is forthcoming in the dividend on Northern Pacific common, which they have counted would be increased to a regular semi-annual rate of 2 per cent. Baltimore and Ohio showed the closest sympathy with Northern Pacific on account of Mr. Hill's large interest in that company. The entire decline in the stocks was 1% for Northern Pacific and the same amount for Baltimore and Ohio. The whole market was off and closed about steady, but without any tendency to recovery. Some of the strength of Americans in London was due to a report that there had been rains in the spring wheat belt, but the later developments in the wheat market of course counteracted this. The bond market was irregular. The feature of foreign trade was the more cheerful tone of the Berlin market and the belief that the crisis in money affairs there was past. The Imperial Bank of Germany emphasized this feeling. The sales (exclusive of the market) was no feature. Compared with the previous day, the railway bonds near the close sold to a considerable extent will be followed by next Thursday's steamer from New York to the continent. Total sales par value, $2,364,000. United States new 4s advanced ½ in the bid price.

SANTA CATALINA ISLAND.

TUNA RECORD AGAIN BROKEN.

AVALON (Santa Catalina Island.) June 11.—[Regular Correspondence.] The tuna fishers are making hay while the sun shines. In former years it seemed absolutely necessary for the angler for this fish to do his fishing either very early in the morning or late in the evening, hence they were up at 2 a. m., had a light breakfast and were afloat at 3, or else they started out about 5 p. m. Now the fish are biting at all hours of the day, and the anglers find it unnecessary to stir out at unseemly hours, or to hook the fish on the edge of the night and have to fight it in the dark, sometimes not being able to land the quarry until near midnight. The change is most welcome.

The record as to number taken in one day was broken again yesterday when eight of these big fish were brought in. The immense schools continue to hover around the bay and crowds on the beach watch their antics as they drive the flying fish into the air in great flocks like a lot of sea birds. The event of the day yesterday was the capturing of a tuna by a lady, the first ever landed unaided by a lady, and the feat was made the more remarkable from the fact that the fish were being played at the same time from one boat and both were landed. Miss Olave Bell Clark was the heroine and her fish weighed 118 pounds, and she was but fifty minutes in landing it.

Yesterday H. D. Gaines of Boonton, N. J., created someting of a sensation by bringing in a tuna almost half of which was gone. Mr. Gaines was several hours in landing the fish and it is supposed that while at the bottom of the sea, it became entangled in some way, and while in a helpless condition was eaten by a shark. The remains brought in weighed but eighty-two pounds, but as it was evident that the fish originally weighed more than 160 pounds, Mr. Gaines was given a button.

O. O. Orr fought a fish six hours yesterday and was towed ten or twelve miles before he could stop it. It weighed eighty-nine pounds.

J. C. Connor, who has had several hard but unsuccessful fights with tuna yesterday, succeeded in winning a button, his fish weighing 168 pounds. M. J. Connell of Montana, also won a button.

This morning at 7 o'clock Mrs. J. C. Connor went out and at 9 she was back and had captured a 116-pound tuna, after an hour's battle.

SANTA CATALINA BREVITIES.

L. H. Gardner of Grand Rapids has built a neat cottage on Summer avenue, and Miss M. E. Cook of Paris, Canada, is building on Metropolis avenue.

Rain began falling yesterday morning about 7 o'clock and continued until noon.

The Catalina Island boys did not play in their usual good form yesterday in their game of baseball with the Apex club of Los Angeles, and allowed the visitors to take fifteen runs to their nine.

J. E. Vincent and E. L. Doran caught twelve white sea bass on a trip to the Isthmus the other day. Mr. Vincent gathering in seven of them and a yellowtail, aggrevating 294 pounds. Each got a forty-eight pound bass, which is the largest recorded for this season.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Glapke spent Sunday here. They will soon occupy their camp.

ORANGE COUNTY.

CITY EMPLOYEES BANQUETTED.

SANTA ANA, June 11.—[Regular Correspondence.] The City Trustees gave a banquet Saturday evening at the city water works in honor of the employés who so successfully dynamited the Bramlette well—thus making a good well out of what seemed but a worthless hole in the ground, after the men who had contracted to put the well down had abandoned it. Plates were set for forty, and besides the city officials and employés at the water works, representatives of the press and others were present. President Avas of the Board of City Trustees officiated as toastmaster, and a number of speeches were made before the banquet concluded.

With the additional flow from this new well, the trustees are confident that the city will have plenty of water during the summer for all purposes.

WILL TRY IT AGAIN.

A marriage license was issued here today to Clyde O. Mack and Mrs. Maude W. Mack, residents of Orange. Mr. and Mrs. Mack were married June 26, 1895, but on November 12, 1897, Mrs. Mack was granted a divorce on the grounds of desertion, and failure to provide, and given the custody of a little babe 20 months old. Today Mrs. Mack and the girl baby were in the County Clerk's office and waited for the license to be issued.

ANOTHER OIL COMPANY.

Another oil company has been formed in this city, consisting of twenty residents, who will develop oil on forty acres of land in section 20, near Bakersfield. Subscriptions to stock in this company closed today, and steps will be taken immediately to incorporate. The company will be known as the Santa Ana and Bakersfield Company.

BUENA PARK.

WILL CELEBRATE.

BUENA PARK, June 11.—[Regular Correspondence.] Buena Park will celebrate the Fourth. Saturday evening the people had a rousing meeting and decided to appoint four committees and give them full charge, as follows: On Sports, C. S. Dickison; on Decoration and Fireworks, J. H. Whitaker; on Music, Len Johnson; these to act with George H. Warren, R. C. Archibald and C. E. White as committee of the whole and have power to appoint any other committees or make necessary arrangements for the day. George H. Warren was chosen treasurer, and several lists are now in circulation to collect the necessary funds.

SPRINTED FOR HIS LIFE.

I. N. McKaughn, a blacksmith, established a record yesterday as a sprinter that is likely to hold for a while. The performance was involuntary. Mr. McKaughn was driving a spirited horse, when the animal took fright and commenced running. In bracing his feet and throwing his weight to pull in the horse, McKaughn staved the bottom from the cart he was driving. With the bottom the lower part of the man's body dropped to the ground. The upper part was too big to go through the aperture made, and the 200-pound blacksmith found himself slated to keep up with the horse as best he could. The sight of the two going down the road was laughable, and at the same time serious. McKaughn devoted all the time he could spare to gesticulating for help. Calling was out of the question. At the end of the first quarter the horse showed a new burst of speed. The man still wanted to quit, but was in no better shape to do so than at the beginning of the heat. Nearly a half was covered before a boy on horseback headed off the pair. McKaughn was released, badly winded, but otherwise unhurt.

ANAHEIM.

SUNDAY SPORTS TABOOED.

ANAHEIM, June 11.—[Regular Correspondence.] Sunday-observance people are reaching out. Baseball and horseracing are now included in the catalogue of things to be prohibited. Steps have been taken by the Westminster Sunday League, which is taking the lead in this section of the county, and yesterday there was no ball played there, the usual Sunday game being temporarily dispensed with. The ball people say they want to get their forces together and have an understanding. Then they propose fighting the thing out. They expect to play next Sunday. The league has issued a printed appeal to citizens to shut down on Sunday ball and to show players no favors. Appeal is also made to parents to deter their children from engaging in ball or other Sunday sports, and the aid of all is solicited to stop racing.

OIL NOTES.

Oil fever in the district west and south of town has been increased by the announcement that the company securing leases will begin development shortly. It is stated that rigs have been ordered and that within three months six wells will have been started. It is proposed to locate these on a northwest by southwest line through about five miles of territory. The leases now in hand cover about 500 acres.

ANAHEIM BREVITIES.

The alfalfa crop is turning out strong. There is plenty. Most growers are storing their crops. Dealers are crowding prices down. Hay is to be obtained, where for sale, at $7 in the field.

A valuable colt belonging to David Rogers choked to death on a stake rope this morning. The animal got caught and was dead before it could be released.

SAN PEDRO.

SCHOOL TRUSTEE CONTEST.

SAN PEDRO, June 11.—[Regular Correspondence.] A contest is going on over a school trusteeship. J. L. Dejarnatt, one of the trustees, has gone to Alaska. Friends of Mrs. George H. Peck, Jr., who was recently reelected trustee, have been active in procuring signatures to a petition asking the County School Superintendent to appoint Henry Baly to fill the vacancy. A petition is also circulated, asking that Ed Mahar be appointed. Mr. Baly is associated with Mr. Peck's husband in the Bank of San Pedro, and Mr. Mahar is the local agent in charge of the business of the Wilmington Transportation Company, and other Banning interests.

LONG BEACH.

SEASON OPENING EARLY.

LONG BEACH, June 11.—[Regular Correspondence.] The summer season here is opening nearly a fortnight earlier than in several years past. Many of the cottages are already occupied, and there is a brisk demand for those which have not been taken. It is believed that when the school year in Los Angeles and the many small towns of the interior shall have closed, there will be a great exodus to the beach. Tradesmen, lodging-house people, and the owners of cottages are looking for one of the most prosperous seasons the town has had. All available business property is occupied, and there is an active demand for more.

CORONADO BEACH.

OPENING CAMP CONCERT.

HOTEL DEL CORONADO, June 11.—[Regular Correspondence.] Sunday was a big day at Camp Coronado, over a thousand people occupying seats and carriages during the opening concert, given by the San Diego City Guard Band from 3 to 5 p. m.

CORONADO BREVITIES.

C. V. Eccleston and C. P. Ensign, officials of the Union Pacific Railroad, with headquarters at Los Angeles, are late Coronado arrivals.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Cravens of Pasadena, are guests of Mrs. Graham E. Babcock at Hotel del Coronado.

SAN BERNARDINO COUNTY.

BURNED BY EXPLODING OIL.

SAN BERNARDINO, June 11.—[Regular Correspondence.] Fred Worthington, engineer at the city pumping plant near the reservoir, was painfully burned Saturday night as the result of an unexpected explosion of oil. The machinery didn't work well, and while he was endeavoring to fix things, the oil flared up, burning Worthington severely about the head. Pedro del Real and Tiofilo Chaves were arraigned this morning in Department one of the Superior Court, to answer to a charge of shooting at a Santa Fé brakeman, acting in the discharge of his duty in putting them off a freight train at Ladlow, a desert station. They were given until Wednesday to plead.

SAN DIEGO COUNTY.

AFRAID OF THE PLAGUE.

SAN DIEGO, June 11.—[Regular Correspondence.] When the steamers Mariscal and Curacoa, bound down the coast, arrived at Ensenada, Lower California, yesterday, from San Francisco, the quarantine officer refused to allow the passengers to land, and for a time it was doubtful whether the vessels would be given clearance to continue their voyage.

TAME AFFAIR.

Billy de Courcey of this city and Joe Sullivan of Montana met tonight at the San Diego Athletic Club for what was scheduled to be a twenty-round match. The affair was rather tame, and in the fifth round Sullivan went down before a light blow and was counted out.

SAN DIEGO BREVITIES.

The steamer Belgian King of the California and Oriental line arrived at the quarantine station yesterday. She was delayed several days in quarantine at Honolulu. She has eighty Chinese aboard for San Diego and one for Los Angeles. Chief Engineer Crowe died of pneumonia on the voyage and the body was interred at Kobe.

E. P. Lounsberry, a member of the firm of Hannahs & Lounsberry, died Sunday evening after a brief illness. The funeral service will be held Tuesday under the auspices of the Elks. The body will be taken to South Haven, Mich., for interment.

News has been received by friends in this city of the death of Dr. M. C. Woodson at Ramona, Friday last. Dr. Woodson was a pioneer in San Diego county, prominent in the work of developing the country. He was a native of Kentucky and 73 years of age at the time of his death. The funeral took place Sunday under the auspices of the Knights Templar.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

BUSINESS AND ENTERTAINMENT AT THE SAME MEETING.

A small but enthusiastic meeting of local Christian Endeavor workers and their friends was held in the Y.M.C.A. Auditorium last evening.

The early part of the meeting was devoted to business relative to the city unions and the selection of chairmen for the various branches of the Junior Endeavor work. The selection resulted in the following being chosen: Lookout Committee, Dr. E. M. Harwood; Prayer Meetings, Miss M. Austerwell; Missionary, Mrs. I. D. Haz; Truth League, Leonard Merrill; Quiet Hour, G. A. Daldson; Citizenship and Temperance, C. D. Wilbur; Social, Mrs. C. S. De Lano; Press, C. D. Seward; Finance, C. F. Skillon; Pastors' Advistory, Rev. Hugh K. Walker; Junior, Mrs. R. W. Bailey; General, Mrs. M. A. Cameron.

Following the business of the evening several addresses were made. George R. Hamilton spoke of the arrangements at the Christian Endeavor State Convention held at Stockton recently. He was followed by Paul C. Brown, who spoke of the business part of the same gathering. Leonard Merrill gave a short talk on the distinguished speakers who addressed the gathering of 1900, followed by Miss Bessie Hale, who took for her subject the closing session.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

[The Times freely publishes the views of correspondents, without holding itself responsible for writers' opinions. Be brief, write plainly; state clearly. The space of 250 words, on the average, is sufficient for the expression of an idea. No attention paid to anonymous communications.]

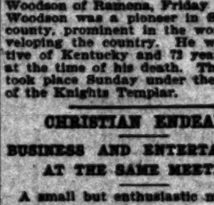
An Easy One.

LOS ANGELES, June 11, 1900.—[To the Editor of The Times:] For eighteen months I have been a resident of this city, living in rented property. At the present time my family, numbering four persons, is at one of the beach towns. How can we secure enumeration as residents of this city in the national census? Doubtless many other residents of this city are similarly situated, and are likely to be credited to beach and mountain resorts.

Respectfully, T. M. HUNT.

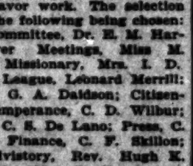
[This is not a difficult thing to control. Give to the enumerator who visits you at the beach your proper residence, and he will enter the facts accordingly.—[Ed Times.

Mrs. Lily Heckert, of Bartlesville, Cherokee Nat., Ind. Ty., writes:



"I had pneumonia, or female weakness, so badly that at times I could not be turned in bed, suffered from palpitation of the heart. I would often faint away, and it seemed as if I never would recover; had sick headache nearly all the time, and also had St. Vitus's Dance. At the commencement of the monthly period my misery would be so great that I would be nearly crazy. I had doctored with five different physicians, but they did me no good. One of these doctors, of forty years' experience, said to me, 'I can't do you any good, so why not try Dr. R. V. Pierce's Favorite Prescription?' I wrote to Dr. R. V. Pierce and described my troubles. He wrote me a nice fatherly, kind letter in reply, and I followed his advice.

"Life is a pleasure to me now, instead of a burden as it was before. Three of my neighbor women have used Dr. Pierce's medicines and it has helped them all. I will take no other medicine but Dr. Pierce's and I recommend it to all my friends. The 'Favorite Prescription' helped me so much I always keep it in the house. I also have the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser and think it is a great book. I am willing to answer any letters of inquiry if stamps are enclosed for reply."



Her Neighbors.

Dr. R. V. Pierce is and for over thirty years has been, chief consulting physician at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. Thousands of women have written to him describing their symptoms, and, on following the advice he gives freely, have become well, strong and happy. Many sensitively modest women write to Dr. Pierce and so avoid the disagreeable questioning, examinations and local treatment so generally insisted upon by physicians. Dr. Pierce's medicines cure you in the privacy of your home, and Mrs. Heckert's case is only one of thousands that have been cured after the doctors failed.

EXPANSION AND POLITICS.

The Question Discussed from Two Standpoints.

McComas Talks for Republicanism and Allender for Democracy.

The big tent on Commercial street in the Eighth Ward was filled with a good-natured and expectant crowd last night to hear the discussion between Deputy District Attorney C. C. McComas, Republican, and Frank W. Allender, Esq., Democrat, upon the subject of "Expansion." It was an ideal audience for a political speaker, because it was comfortably seated, evidently looking for something good and ready to laugh upon slight provocation. The good-natured badinage between Mr. McComas and Mr. Allender did not disappoint them, and every shot was received with shouts of laughter.

Councilman Robert A. Todd was chairman of the meeting.

The Mexican Independent Band was present and did its share toward enlivening the occasion.

DEMOCRATIC SIDE.

There was applause as Mr. Allender stepped forward. He said, among other things: "It seems to me this is a proper place in which to discuss the questions which are agitating the people of this country. This tent has been, as you know, erected for religious worship, and Christ was not an imperialist; He was not a plutocrat, but a man of the common people and in favor of raising them to a level of kings and queens.

"I am here to speak for the principles of Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln; of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. John Adams said: 'We want no kings,' and a rebellion arose which gave us an instrument in which it is said all men are created equal, and England suffered from the very despotism that McKinley has foisted upon the isles of the sea without the consent of the people."

The speaker reviewed the industrial situation of the country from his standpoint and then took up the recent irregularities in Cuban affairs, and illustrated with a story.

Mr. Allender continued to discuss the Cuban tariff question, the Philippine war, and made comparisons between the President and George III., referring to the President as "despotic, unpatriotic and corrupt." He asserted that Aguinaldo had been taken aboard the flagship and led Dewey and his fleet over the torpedoes at Manila.

Time was called on the speaker as he closed with a reference to the Boers. During his speech he referred repeatedly to Mr. McComas by name. The audience was entertained with a cornet solo by Prof. Escobar, with A. E. Lacey at the piano.

REPUBLICAN SIDE.

"Expansion," said McComas, "is an established fact; we are bound to expand; when we cease to expand, when we cease to desire to better our condition, then we are dead and some other nation will come along and bury us. It is argued that we Republicans—Bill McKinley and we other Republicans—have departed from our teachings. Our forefathers drove out the Indians and they didn't ask anybody; they passed laws and asked nobody. I have often thought that if the forefathers were such tomfools and numskulls as the Democrats would have us think we would not be the nation we are."

He referred at length to Jefferson's purchase of Louisiana and to the expansion measures executed by Madison, Polk and others, and by way of hitting off Allender's array of documents said:

"I didn't think to bring my baggage wagon and have my books here, but I'll get along with what I have."

He reviewed at length the acquisition of territory through all the early history of the nation, and said he heard no complaint from Democrats. He referred to Alaska, which the Democrats had derisively termed Seward's ice box, and stated that the seal fisheries alone had paid back the seven millions paid for Alaska. He predicted the same result in the Philippines.

"Time's up," rang a voice.

"All right, boys, I'll tell you about it at the bal grounds;" and the meeting adjourned.

MEN-OF-WAR AT SOUTHAMPTON.

SOUTHAMPTON, June 11.—The United States cruiser Albany, which was placed in commission at Newcastle-on-Tyne, May 30, and under orders to proceed to the Mediterranean, arrived at Southampton today. United States training ship Buffalo, which sailed from New York April 19, for a cruise in the Mediterranean, has also arrived.

"CARDINAL NEWMAN."

EATS ANYTHING

Since Leaving Off Coffee.

"I wish to give my experience with coffee for the benefit of other people. I used coffee for several years and was a terrible sufferer from dyspepsia. The doctor told me not to use coffee or tea and put me on a light diet, and I felt better.

"Then I commenced to drink coffee again and had the same trouble come on.

"One day I told a friend about it, who said if I would stop drinking coffee altogether I would feel better, and advised me to use Postum Food Coffee in its place.

"I tried the Postum but did not like it, so I told him about it and he said I didn't cook it right, that is, didn't boil it enough and that I should use cream instead of milk, and to make sure I would use it, he sent a package to the house.

"After I used that package, I would have no more coffee in the house. Now I don't know what it is to have dyspepsia and I can eat anything. I also give Postum to my two children and they are the healthiest children you could find anywhere. The youngest is a boy 12 months old and we have been giving him Postum for seven months, three times a day. He weighs 30 pounds, and I know that Postum is what keeps both of them so healthy.

"I think all people who have dyspepsia get it from coffee drinking.

"Yours truly, Mrs. Jno. Stringer, 29 S. Florida ave., Atlantic City, N. Y.

$3.50 TRADE So-e-z MARK
So easy to the Foot.
These $3.50 Shoes
Have scared competitors into life. Plenty of men and women who formerly bought $5.00 shoes at old-time stores have adopted the "So-e-z" at $3.50. It wears longer and looks better.
The "So-e-z" is not as good as our $5.00 shoe, because we have a particularly fine one at that price. But compare it with any other $5 shoe. That will convince you.
